

P.S. I will never vote my Party again, for the wretched Tex Party has held my old G.O.P. gutters + hostage and makes it continue to be the Party of "R".

From watching the TV reports on the horrible flooding in so many Southern areas, and having experienced the same type of flooding trauma way back in 1955, I admire the calm + organized manner you have provided current news and guidance for your constituents.
My late husband and I were married June 18, 1955, went away for a two week honeymoon
+ returned to my parent home along the Delaware River to stay while we built our home on the wedding gift from my Mom + Dad, a most generous piece of land, as much as we desired. I married into an Italian family and it was the usual custom to display shower + wedding gifts for some time so that friends and relatives could visit. Our shower gifts cluttered the dining room, we had a living room filled with wedding gifts (thank goodness we also had a TV room, so we could live a somewhat normal life. The Sunday before the horrific Hurricane Diane flood on Thursday, my Mom said "enough is enough" it's August, so get all this stuff up into the attic. My Dad, my husband and I did so, on Thursday we three went to work, my Dad and I witnessed the rapid rise in the Delaware and

P.S. I am a registered Republican, voted for both President Bush, the latter I feel guilty because my one vote (FRAUD is B.S.) put the trio of Bush, Cheney & Rumsfeld together who got us into the WRONG WAR, Thousands killed & injured, where is the one & only investigation of what I could call the White Republican versus BLACK Democrat thame!

Decided to go home, my husband worked in a different direction, so we called him & told him just after we got home, our road flooded, but we had been able to get our vehicles up a slope behind our rural barn, my husband had to leave his car on a Mountain Road & hike home. I told my Mom not put her "feet" down, we would have lost all those wonderful gifts. At dusk, staying in the barn, the water was already 3 1/2 feet in our house.

I just wanted to comment on the remarks by several about the Committee chaired by Trey Gowdy. I think it is unconscionable that the 9th investigation about BENGUYSEE, spelled that way because the so called "scandal" was created, condoned & promoted by the guys of the most radical, racist entity in the world, Fox News (News, what a travesty, Obama haters, as is their Cops "Fair & Balanced" - for WHOM. The amount of time and money spent on this is ridiculous, are they hoping to find some secret overlooked by the previous Committee. RIDICULOUS and I agree, it is only a Hillary Witch Hunt. Why not spend time on an investigation of the Tea Party Presters, Sarah Palin, who has so much a book was published "The Lies of Sarah Palin"; guess that was over looked when

well as the Tea Party U.S. Candidate
