A state park SALUTE to Girl Scout Emily Bohman with Troop 415 in the Aiken area. Emily was looking for a community project to earn her Silver Award. During a recent camping trip to Aiken State Park, Emily brought books and set up a mini-library at the park for her project! This book exchange is free to the public, encourages literacy and offers literature for folks to loan out and add to the collection, at the same time. We thank you Emily!

Heather Siebert This is awesome! We really enjoyed the Little Library at Devil's Fork and I love the idea of them at the parks!
