Do we want to say something like this?

Quote from Governor Haley's press secretary Chaney Adams, "Last year, when we invested in teachers, technology and reading and made school funding more equitable, we changed the face of South Carolina. Even though the court didn't take the progress we've made into consideration, we're going to keep up our fight to transform education - which is exactly what we're doing this year with our rural teacher recruitment and retention effort - because South Carolina's students, who are our future workforce, deserve nothing less."

No, the deadline to file is Monday (October 19), so we are filing Monday. We need to coordinate with the House, Senate and State on our response since we are filing a joint motion.

Hey Chaney,

I'm working on a story for tomorrow about the Monday petition filing deadline for the Abbeville case. I know Swati Patel is one of the lawyers on the case and is also, now, the governor's chief of staff. Could you either put me in contact with her or find out: A. If and when she plans to file a petition. B. What the petition will pertain too (i.e. a reconsideration of deadlines, rehearing the case, other request).

Let me know when you can, thanks,

Gavin
