Intro to the Phone System

A self-paced course on LSA Learn

On the front page of the LSA Learn site, you can access a self-paced tutorial about the phone system. To participate, click on the link.

On the next screen, click the "Enroll Me" button to access the course content.

In the course content screen you'll find instructions, videos and other content arranged by section. You can navigate to each section either by scrolling down the page or via the links in the content section the left. The self-pacing of this course allows you to work at your own pace and skip or repeat sections of your choosing.
