South Carolina State Parks

at 20:37:08 on 7/13/2020 UTC

Bring your masks to SC State Parks!

Effective immediately, visitors over the age of two years old are required to wear a mask in any state park facility staffed by employees or where the general public may congregate. This includes park offices, visitor centers, stores, nature centers, restrooms or while touring any indoor facility being considered for rent. In the event that visitors do not have a mask, they will be asked to remain outside of the facility and park employees will assist them and accommodate their needs, if possible. Any park rental facility to include cabins, campsites, picnic shelters, group facilities, etc, are considered as having restricted use and will be the responsibility of the party renting that facility. It is recommended that they follow all CDC and SCDHEC guidelines regarding social distancing and mask wearing, but park staff will not be responsible for reinforcing those guidelines.

We thank you for your cooperation and understanding as we work to stop the spread and protect our visitors and employees.

Kathy Sexton Mace I am not for wearing a mask. If you want to then great.

at 2:55:35 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Carl Berube Michael Gossett if you're gonna wrap yourself in a flag because someone tells you that you need to wear a mask so you can go to the store to buy firewood or a bag of ice...just wrap part of it over your face and you're good to go. Making any of this a "patriot test" is a joke.

If you are asymptomatic it is "very rare" to transmit COVID19.

Karen Byler What you put INTO your mouth is of far more importance than what you wear OVER your mouth.
The focus is all wrong. It would be so refreshing to hear about how to build up our God-given immune systems so that we can fight off viruses/pathogens, etc..
The real pandemic in this country is the crappy sugary processed junk food that people continue to eat. I see it all the time-- folks with their grocery carts FULL of junk food, sodas, etc., but they have their mask on! Did y'all know that sugar and Covid don't play well together?? But you won't hear that on the news.
Folks ask me why I don't wear a mask, I'm ready with a mile-long list of all the things I do to keep my body healthy and my immune system strong. And I say, "When you start making these same healthy choices, then I'll think about wearing a mask."
For most people, that's the end of the conversation. It's all about choices. You truly are what you eat.

at 3:08:00 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Kay Rexer I'll be sticking to my GA state parks then. I guess Bdaddy won't be getting another SC state park pass for Christmas. I can see the offices and visitor centers but the restrooms? Nobody uses the restrooms when we have been there

at 3:13:48 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Chip Ralph Register Lorraine Woodward experts, hmmm, plenty of experts state quite the opposite. You can listen to the CDC and others who have agendas. I choose to listen to doctors and scientists who are not bought and paid for. Ones who have no agenda, just what is actually your best interest. You and most on this post are who they are banking on, you are easily led. You should study who you get your info from, money and greed are powerful.

Angela Gosnell Nancy Marie times have changed, as should our attitude regarding masks. Has someone you loved died of covid? Maybe so / maybe not but I'm thinking this cavalier, politically-driven "I'm not gonna wear a mask" idea is from those who haven't lost someone dear to them...yet. I will NEVER understand the selfishness behind this "movement". But as everyone keeps spouting "I'm just stating my opinion" & "it's a free country"...like my daddy always said (RIP) "opinions are like assholes...everybody has one". My opinion, which is based in fact, is that masks DO help prevent the spread. So all of the non-maskers...buckle up...this isn't going to end soon because we South Cackalakians believe in "our rights" & "our freedom". Puhleeze.

Jill Landover Doris Craven - go to sleep, "Karen" - you have no facts. You've talked with medical "pros" ? 🤔 What is a medical pro ?? Your original heat and UV rays kill the virus post speaks for itself. Like the heat outside is killing the virus - look at the spread at our beaches. Really, go to sleep. You do not have a clue, you're following an agenda - not medical or scientific facts.

Doris Craven Jill Landover You are an ignorant. Do you even have two brain cells to rub together? The UV facts can be found on the DHS Biodefense page. It's NOT spreading at beaches. I was just at MB & HHI. The only effing agenda I have is to shut up stupid fks like you. Talk about no clue. A medical pro= doctors & RNs. Are you really stumped by that terminology? ☹️☹️☹️ Don't go to sleep. Just fk off and end your ignorant rambling.

at 4:05:44 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Jill Landover Total Trump style temper tantrum. Masks have been used for years in the immunocompromised communities and with cancer patients during chemo when their white cell counts drop below a dangerous level, leaving the patient vulnerable to host infections. SMH. Take the time to research facts. You act like masks use is new. Doctors/nurses/medical staff have been wearing them as long as they have practiced in hospital settings and in private medical settings when necessary.

at 4:06:03 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Brian Johnson Hailey-Anne Eldred they are funded through the South Carolina government, at least as of a couple years ago they still were. In 2012 they took a huge budget cut, down to only 4 million a year but from what I understood that went back up as their revenue increased

Carl Berube Kyra Writsel they are required if you want to go inside any buildings. Not outside.

at 4:26:18 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Jill Landover Doris Craven - not spreading at MB ? SMH - that's one of areas experiencing an outbreak. I cannot speak to HHI. I guess it's not spreading at Charleston either ? Roper Hospital ICU bed utilization is at capacity. I'm sorry your vocabulary is limited to words like stupid fks - it's really reflective of your intellect. I have working knowledge with ER physicians, nurses and epidemiologists - front line workers. I'm not stumped by terminology, only your simple slang. Calm down, Karen. See my concern is for the people affected by this and the spread, which is real. You obviously lack of compassion and concern for what is going on is telling. This is why I came out of retirement to work with this. Having a prior background in research with genetic diseases (Huntington Disease - autosomal trait), where people did not have a choice in their future course was heart breaking. There's a choice with SARS-CoV-2. But people are choosing NOT to follow best public health practices. You're either part of the solution or part of the problem when it comes to this pandemic. It's not just the US, it's a global problem. The US is failing in its effort to control the spread. As for the DHS Biodefense page - they say preliminary results will inactivate the virus so they're hopeful. It's not proven. Learn the difference from preliminary to proven.

TO THE EDITOR:

We understand that some people are citing our Perspective article (published on April 1 at NEJM.org)<sup>1</sup> as support for discrediting widespread masking. In truth, the intent of our article was to push for more masking, not less. It is apparent that many people with SARS-CoV-2 infection are asymptomatic or presymptomatic yet highly contagious and that these people account for a substantial fraction of all transmissions.<sup>2,3</sup> Universal masking helps to prevent such people from spreading virus-laden secretions, whether they recognize

Most state parks charge fees to visitors, but that revenue doesn't always cover operating expenses. Many parks get money through the state budget or from other sources such as dedicated sales taxes, lottery proceeds or federal funds.

Masks do not work.
Once the droplets are in the mask the virus is in a moist, warm Petri dish Perfect for growth.
Every time you touch the mask and then touch items on a store shelf, the pin pad at checkout, your wallet, your keys, door handles etc... you spread the virus.
Seems counterproductive to me.
The risks are greater than the benefits.

Kelly Sandlin Well I'm not wasting my money to be forced to wear a piece of paper/cloth that doesn't work, for a virus that is being blown way outta proportion. I used to love visiting our state parks, guess I will find other places to spend my time and money! And before you comment bash me because I disagree with all you sheep, stop and keep scrolling because I will not entertain your argument. That is what freedom of choice is.

at 14:46:58 on 7/14/2020 UTC

Jill Landover Laura Wolfe Franga - you just proved my point. It states it prevents the wearer from spreading COVID. You act as if wearing a mask is new. I've been with out a spleen since 1990. Wearing a mask, along with good hand washing hygiene, is part of the cold/flu season protocol for people that are immunocompromised. You're 30 years behind the times. Ever seen a cancer patient wearing a mask ? That's because their white cell count is low and they cannot fight an infection. Their oncologist will have them wear a mask in public to help prevent air born preventions. To me this whole mask thing is silly. Some of us have been doing it for years. It makes the rest of the population sound ..... well ..... uneducated.

What do your results mean?

If you test positive

- A positive test result shows you may have antibodies from an infection with the virus that causes COVID-19. However, there is a chance a positive result means that you have antibodies from an infection with a virus from the same family of viruses (called coronaviruses), such as the one that causes the common cold.

How many people wearing masks do you think use them as single use disposables as they are intended?

What about the more "fashionable" cloth ones? Are people throwing those away after each use?

I mean, let's be real.

Single use disposable masks are designed to keep a sterile surgical field from being contaminated IN A STERILE ENVIRONMENT! I don't know where you shop but, my grocery, gas station, pet food store, department store or restaurants aren't sterile. Think about all the shared surfaces you touch in a day. Think about how many times people touch their masks and then touch the same surfaces. Then there's your eyes. The virus is transmissible via the mucosa in the eye. So, rub your eyes, touch your mask then go to the grocery. Think about it. This is why masks are ineffective. I think that would be excellent advice.

Yr employer chooses to make their employees wear a mask,fine. But don't tell the people that can see that it's bs ,that have a clear understanding that this a hoax and just a way to see how many fake spineless Americans are out here that will bow down to what the power hungry people will say, that they have to wear a mask.you have yr choice,I have mine. I choose to live by the thoughts and ideas that made America great. Not the thoughts and ideas that's bringing it to it's knees. All you have to do is look at the facts to see it's all I lie and just another phase of control. Better yet, open your Bible.

Matthew Lattè Latta Kevin Mcabee nice paragraph. So you're a COVID19 denier as well? Doubled down in the stupidity, I see. Whatever though, it's a free country. Keep fighting for your freedom to be an idiot, by posting memes or whatever you do

Sarah Collins Listen I get it, I get you want to make your staff comfortable and it's your idea of safety. We respect that...we will stay out of places like the offices (so long as there's a window outside like before, to check in), we will stay out of all buildings...WXCEPT the bathrooms...and we aren't wearing a mask in the bathroom...come on now, that's dangerous! As hot and humid as it is in those bathrooms...are you wanting people to pass out? I absolutely will not put a mask on my daughter! Where have you seen any place mandate a mask for that age? I think y'all are overstepping boundaries a bit by this...however some of us do have medical conditions in which mask wearing is not an option anyways...and you need to be mindful of that.

Sarah Collins Jill Landover there are LOTS of medical issues that prevent mask use.
Anxiety
Panic disorder
A slew of other mental disorders
Lung conditions
Asthma
COPD
People on oxygen
Lung infections
A ton of other stuff

Allison Finch Matthew Lattè Latta the fact is, the recent surges are in red states. Coincidence? Hardly. A self correcting problem with culling involved. Win-win.

Laura Tadlock Shuman Jeff Potter here is a visual that illustrates how masks help reduce the spread... not stop the spread. If we all wear them, the rates will drop

Allison Finch This line of posts is simply amazing. After all of the posts thanking the park system for their adherence to scientifically proven methods to help stem the tide of this virus, all it took was ONE factually ignorant comment to start every uninformed person around to spew their "alternative facts". Masks work. Every country on the planet that has successfully diminished the spread of covid19 has done so by their universal use of masks. THAT cannot be disputed! These antimaskers are our doom. They will continue to drive this virus on, and on, and on.....
