I sent a last photo for Dinene Hancock, it was a Roseate standing with it's leg up. This was a few days ago. When I told her (Dinene) it wasn't posted, I believe I told her to send it from that Gordon account along with a message saying we were both trying to send it. She did send it from there.
I sent it again last night. I understand this is confusing, but I am trying to help her get her photos in. She is my Aunt and of age (59). She has her facebook set as underage to prevent spammers and unwanted messages. I have seen that some of her pics have different names, but as long as you know.
Thank you for posting her photos. The pink bird with its leg up is the last one.
Thank you Kristi

Hi. I have seen that photo and approved it. It should be showing up in the gallery. We will make sure the appropriate person is awarded if it is selected as a winning photo. Thanks for helping your aunt out!
