South Carolina State Parks

They usually don't "fly in" until July.....but look who just couldn't wait to get back to Huntington Beach State Park -- the spoonbills! They stopped by for a short visit. And we hope they'll be back to stay a while in July. Thanks to our friend, Phil Lanoue, for the awesome pic.

Beverly Ahr I love seeing the spoonies when I cross the causeway.

Melissa Duncan Higgs I would be interested to know if they return in July. Sounds like the result of global warming.
