

Dear SC department of mental health and State Director John H. Magill, & Governor Nicki Haley,

My name is Heather Endicott and I am a current resident of SC.

I recieved my Bachelor's degree in Studio
Art from Columbia College in December of 2013. I am currently in the process of applying to graduate programs in and out of state.

As a consumer of the SC DMH system,
I wanted to advocate ~~and~~ an idea
~~and have questions / concerns adressing~~
this idea and issue.

The state of Georgia department of Mental Health has a center called the Peer support and Wellness center.

The Peer support and wellness center
is part of Georgia's mental health
state system.

It has locations in Decatur, White
County, Bartow County, Colquitt
County, and Henry County. Georgia.

As a previous consumer of the SC mental health system, I would like to support the creation of a similar peer support, wellness, and respite center in South Carolina.

I only have a Bachelor's degree currently, and am not a law-maker but I am interested in supporting the creation of a similar branch of the South Carolina Mental Health System, similar to Georgia's Peer support and wellness center. Specifically, the center in Decatur, Georgia.

A similar wellness center in South Carolina would sustain and provide jobs for mental health professionals. It would also allow consumers of the SC Mental Health system to have more choice in their treatment.

I would like to ask for a reply concerning the creation of such a wellness center, in South Carolina.

Thank you,

Heather Endicott

Post Script

Both my mother and I were born and currently live in SC, Orangeburg specifically. We are both consumers of the DMH. I would love to see the creation of a wellness center in my mother's lifetime in SC as she is sixty-one years of age.
