Nikki,

You've probably noticed that liberals think that their version of "progress" – big government, Obamacare, censorship, and liberal values -- will inevitably win the day. You hear it everywhere, including on the campaign trail.

It's high time liberals start to understand the size and strength of the conservative movement -- your movement -- that stands in their way.

Heritage's Conservative Census project will identify and unite those who stand for the principles that built America into the greatest nation in the world: free enterprise, limited government, individual freedom, traditional American values, and a strong national defense.

The deadline to fund this project is tonight at midnight.

Your gift before the midnight deadline will reinforce conservative ranks at a critical time. When we stand united, we cannot be stopped.

Make your donation before midnight tonight.

Thank you for all you do for the cause.
