Subject: re:VISION | Teacher professional development: a wise investment in the future

<<http://www.hunt-institute.org/>>

Professional development is big business. Not just because of the amount of money spent on in-service days and training, but because in any organization, the most valuable asset is its people. Business and professional leaders recognize the importance of continued learning to the success of an organization and invest in opportunities that promote ongoing knowledge and skills building.

This issue of re:VISION <<http://www.hunt-institute.org/resources/2015/05/teacher-professional-development-a-wise-investment-in-the-future/>> summarizes the status of state professional development policies and strategies, and is designed to assist policymakers in identifying levers of change to consider when determine policies that support high-quality teacher professional development.
