

Account: South Carolina State Parks

Content type: Facebook Page - Timeline posts

Record ID: 20160614South-Carolina-State-ParksTimeline-posts52748_10154237725553166

South Carolina State Parks

at 12:00:00 on 6/14/2016 UTC · 🌐

This lovely-smelling Seven Sisters heirloom rose is blooming in the garden at Rose Hill. Pretty neat considering that it was planted by the Gist family in the 1800s, making it over 150 years old! The rose bush stands taller than six feet and has many, many thorns in addition to its fragrant pink flowers. So come check out our old rose! www.southcarolinaparks.com/rosehill Margaret Buckley So nice to see it in bloom - thank you for sharing. We went in January so we missed the roses but we enjoyed a wonderful tour and a fantastic history lesson.

at 12:22:49 on 6/14/2016 UTC

Murrill Little Snipes Might be. -- does sound like it!

at 1:38:13 on 6/15/2016 UTC