Nikki,

I just finished reviewing our fundraising numbers with my campaign team and as we head into the final week of the election, we set a goal to raise an additional $3,000. Your immediate contribution today will make a real difference in our critical Get Out The Vote operations. I'm counting on you to chip in here and help us finish strong.

The election is just about a week away and we are running out of time. If we're going to achieve our goal, we need everyone who opens this message to make an immediate contribution.

Thank you in advance for your strong support. It's critical to protecting the future of our nation.

Best,

Raúl

P.S. This Halloween, remember there's nothing scarier than a Hillary Clinton Presidency. Don't wake up the day after the election wishing you had done more. Donate \$35 or more today.
