Last year seven aircraft supply and repair companies announced they are coming to the state, bringing a combined 890 jobs and $102 million in investment.

GKN Aerospace - $38 million investment, 250 new jobs
Southern Air Repair - $750,000 investment, 20 new jobs
AvCraft Technical Services - $1 million investment, 150 new jobs
Cargo Composites - $700,000 investment, 40 new jobs
Honeywell International - $25 million investment, 30 new jobs
Carbures - $6.5 million, 50 new jobs
TIGHITCO - $30 million, 350 new jobs

You may call any of these companies and try for an interview.

If I can reach someone from GKN, I will email you.

Thanks!

Thanks for getting back to me. This is a big help.

Can you tell me how many businesses, jobs, and investment came as a direct result of last year's trip? I think GKN is one, right?

I don't need an interview with GKN from there, but are there any suppliers that are now in South Carolina, and aren't far from Columbia, I could talk to about why they came here?

Thanks.

Hi Amy,

I know some of the exact costs aren't known until bills come in, but can you tell me how much the trip to the air show in England is costing SC taxpayers? I'm trying to compare it to the one to Paris last year.

The governor just said on a conference call that we should contact the Commerce Dept. for the costs, but she did know that fewer people went to this air show than the one last year.

So I'm just looking for whatever info you can give me on cost of this year's compared to last year's; how many people went this year compared to last; and what deals/jobs/investments came out of last year's.

Thanks!

TALKERS:

Aero Industry announcements

Commerce agency in last year has announced that seven aircraft supply and repair companies are coming to the state, bringing a combined 890 jobs and $102 million in investment.

Costs:

Estimated costs are around $100,000 and costs to taxpayer targeted lower than last year by about half. The $100,000 is split with partners & alliances.

NOTE: Amy Love will send photos, costs, list of delegates, list of companies announced this year, and all states attending Farnborough after the show is over. Final costs will prob not be ready until mid-August (time for invoices to come in).

Reception @ $11,000 was partially sponsored by two companies (GKN and Michelin Aviation Tire; Smaller reception with fewer guests.

At reception, Gov talked with nearly every guest, a total of about 50 different guests or groups of about 20 different companies

Stayed in London to be with Team SC, convenience and cost of travel and efficiency - public transportation

Met with about 12 Companies for two days at Farnborough, including GKN and Boeing companies already present in SC with potential for growth.

7 other Governors in attendance; met the Governor of Oklahoma

States' presence at air show increasing. Seeing a change with more states having a larger presence.

This year marks the largest US contingent at Farnborough of states and small to mid sized business

Competing states also here: GA, Alabama, NC, Arizona, FLA, Oklahoma
Ohio, Washington and new England also present

Booth costs @ $58,000 shared with partners; booth on floor allows for appointments within the space (see photos Amy Love will send) and more foot traffic. On same hall with other US states. No "chalet" aka separate meeting space this year.

Team SC Delegation:

2 from alliances (some sending more throughout week to tag team)

Central SC Alliance

Charleston Regional Development Alliance

Charlotte Regional Partnership
Lowcountry Alliance
Upstate SC Alliance
NESA
Southern Carolina Alliance

State = 13 all total

Commerce:

George Patrick

Amy Love

2 project managers

Ford Graham (Europe office managing director & co coordinator of events for Commerce) + deputy managing director tag teaming w/a coordinator at the end of the week & 2 summer interns

Governor Nikki Haley + 1 staffer + 2 security

Sen Graham also there w staffer but not paid by state

Boeing:

Boeing announced sale of 737 max on Monday. If they produce more of these, perhaps there will be a need to expand to build them in SC. When things are going well for Boeing, they are going well for SC.

Related to Port decision to build an inland port:

Although Commerce has not been involved in the recently announced plan to develop an inland port in Greer, Commerce continues to support the creation of an inland port as it would improve the efficiency of our transportation, distribution and logistics network.

Dual Rail Statement if asked:

Commerce's priority is to develop an equal dual access rail solution to ensure competitiveness of the Port of Charleston and to support economic development throughout the state. Commerce's efforts to reach a resolution with the City of North Charleston are ongoing and Commerce remains optimistic that the parties can reach a mutually acceptable resolution.

Airbus:

We will have to wait and see what happens. A strong aerospace manufacturing in the south is good for everyone. Mercedes Benz located in Alabama when BMW was in SC - these developments can be organic and show a strengthening of manufacturing overall. Interesting parallels and we will see what the news is and the impact it will have

Thanks!

Introduction

Moderator: Tamara King

Good morning everyone. Thank you for joining us for this call. Before we get started, could each of you state your name and media agency?

Please keep in mind that the Governor will provide remarks and then open the floor to questions. When asking your questions please state your name media agency. This will help lessen any confusion or the chance of everyone speaking at once. Now that we have all the housekeeping done.

Let's get started....

10:35 am- 10:50am

Governor Haley Remarks

Background and Purpose

- South Carolina Department of Commerce started attending the air shows in 2005.

• Attendance at these shows is credited for building relationships with key aerospace companies, including Boeing and GKN Aerospace.

• The relationship the state established with Boeing led to the company's decision to locate its 787 final assembly and delivery facility in North Charleston. Much like we have done with the automotive industry with BMW has an anchor; we now aim to do with Boeing.

- South Carolina continues to lay the groundwork for the state's growth in the aerospace industry.
- This is the primary air show for companies wanting to sell aircraft, and South Carolina has an opportunity to make economic development connections because many companies that the state needs to meet will be in one place at one time.
- We have been focused on Boeing suppliers and assume that most companies we have met with and will meet with have relationships to Boeing or would like to service Boeing or the composites industry.

Role of Governor

- CEOs like to meet with the CEO of a state. I can tell them what I can do to provide a positive environment for doing business and what we can provide in terms of support from the state.
- I make calls weekly to companies interested in expanding or locating in South Carolina

- I update our Commerce project management team directly once I've spoken with companies.

South Carolina's Aerospace Signature

- The state's manufacturing tradition and strengths in materials and engineering, along with synergy with the South Carolina automotive sector, are ready to support a thriving industry for aerospace and defense companies.

- More than 180 Businesses and 20,000 Employees make up South Carolina's Aerospace Industry.

- Boeing was a huge investment for S.C. and helped accelerate our growth in aerospace.

- The Dreamliner facility brought hundreds of millions in investment and thousands of new jobs. The company will undoubtedly grow this facility.

South Carolina's Aerospace Industry is strengthened by:

- Air Force installations in Sumter and Charleston
- Marine Corps Air Station in Beaufort
- Space and Naval Warfare Systems
- Command R&D Center in Charleston
- Three research Universities with program and research centers dedicated to aerospace, advanced materials and related sectors
- Sixteen technical colleges with training programs specially dedicated to training the aerospace manufacturing workforce

•Aerospace Capital Investment in South Carolina from 2006-2011.

- o $1.2 Billion Capital Invested
- o 7,800 Jobs Created

Aerospace-related sector for 2011 - $101.5 million in investment; 887 jobs

Hey Leigh – The cost of the train tickets were $139.00 a piece and covers the shuttle costs to and from the airport.

A car service will cost approximately $700.00 a day and be a two hour ride to and from Farnborough. This service will drop off right at the exhibit door with a VIP pass.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Subject: Air Flights for Farnsborough (London)

Leigh,

I am trying to get the air flights booked for the trip to the Farnborough Air show in London in July. I want to get good seats before the prices go up.

Bobby and Amy will depart on Friday, July 6th and return on Wednesday, July 11th flying out of Charlotte.

I have down that the Governor, Mr. Haley, Security (1), and Staff (1) will be flying out of Columbia on Saturday, July 7th at 4:05 p.m. arriving in London on Sunday morning at 7:20 a.m. They will depart London on Wednesday, July 11th at 10:00 a.m. arriving back in Columbia at 5:02 p.m.

The flight goes through Charlotte both ways.

I will need the complete name, as printed on each person's passport, and their birthdate in order to book the tickets.

Can you check and see if it is okay for us to go ahead and book the flights? I know things may change but we can always change the tickets if we have to. Booking now and getting good seats and a good price is worth taking a chance. The cost for each person at this time flying out of Columbia is $1,409. The flight I just booked for Bobby out of Charlotte was $1135.10.

Call if you have any questions.

Sorry I couldn't print these, but I do have my iPad and can show them to her that way if it helps.

TALKERS:

Aero Industry announcements

Commerce agency in last year has announced that seven aircraft supply and repair companies are coming to the state, bringing a combined 890 jobs and $102 million in investment.

Costs:

Estimated costs are around $100,000 and costs to taxpayer targeted lower than last year by about half. The $100,000 is split with partners & alliances.

NOTE: Amy Love will send photos, costs, list of delegates, list of companies announced this year, and all states attending Farnborough after the show is over. Final costs will prob not be ready until mid-August (time for invoices to come in).

Reception @ $11,000 was partially sponsored by two companies (GKN and Michelin Aviation Tire; Smaller reception with fewer guests.

At reception, Gov talked with nearly every guest, a total of about 50 different guests or groups of about 20 different companies

Stayed in London to be with Team SC, convenience and cost of travel and efficiency - public transportation

Met with about 12 Companies for two days at Farnborough, including GKN and Boeing companies already present in SC with potential for growth.

7 other Governors in attendance; met the Governor of Oklahoma

States' presence at air show increasing. Seeing a change with more states having a larger presence.

This year marks the largest US contingent at Farnborough of states and small to mid sized business

Competing states also here: GA, Alabama, NC, Arizona, FLA, Oklahoma Ohio, Washington and new England also present

Booth costs @ $58,000 shared with partners; booth on floor allows for appointments within the space (see photos Amy Love will send) and more foot traffic. On same hall with other US states. No "chalet" aka separate meeting space this year.

Team SC Delegation:

2 from alliances (some sending more throughout week to tag team)

Central SC Alliance

Charleston Regional Development Alliance

Charlotte Regional Partnership

Lowcountry Alliance

Upstate SC Alliance

NESA

Southern Carolina Alliance

State = 13 all total

Commerce:

George Patrick

Amy Love

2 project managers

Ford Graham (Europe office managing director & co coordinator of events for Commerce) + deputy managing director tag teaming w/a coordinator at the end of the week & 2 summer interns

Governor Nikki Haley + 1 staffer + 2 security

Sen Graham also there w staffer but not paid by state

Boeing:

Boeing announced sale of 737 max on Monday. If they produce more of these, perhaps there will be a need to expand to build them in SC. When things are going well for Boeing, they are going well for SC.

Related to Port decision to build an inland port:

Although Commerce has not been involved in the recently announced plan to develop an inland port in Greer, Commerce continues to support the creation of an inland port as it would improve the efficiency of our transportation, distribution and logistics network.

Dual Rail Statement if asked:

Commerce's priority is to develop an equal dual access rail solution to ensure competitiveness of the Port of Charleston and to support economic development throughout the state. Commerce's efforts to reach a resolution with the City of North Charleston are ongoing and Commerce remains optimistic that the parties can reach a mutually acceptable resolution.

Airbus:

We will have to wait and see what happens. A strong aerospace manufacturing in the south is good for everyone. Mercedes Benz located in Alabama when BMW was in SC - these developments can be organic and show a strengthening of manufacturing overall. Interesting parallels and we will see what the news is and the impact it will have

Thanks!

Glad that worked out w Charleston story.

I will have final names, costs and breakdown after the show is over. Final costs likely not until mid-August.

Estimated costs are around $100,000 with support from alliances, partners, sponsors and private sector. The taxpayer expense will be less than last year.

2 from alliances (some sending more throughout week to tag team):

Central SC Alliance
Charleston Regional Development Alliance
Charlotte Regional Partnership
Lowcountry Alliance
Upstate SC Alliance
NESA
Southern Carolina Alliance

State = 13 all total

Commerce:

George Patrick

Amy Love

Wayne Fritz

Warren Darby

Ford Graham (Europe office managing director & co coordinator of events for Commerce) Europe
Office deputy managing director tag teaming w/a coordinator at the end of the week

2 summer interns from Europe Office

Governor Nikki Haley + 1 staffer + 2 security

Hi Amy,
Thanks again for your help on the Palmetto Parkway story the other day.
We would just like to know how much Governor Haley's trip to Farnborough cost, and how it was paid for.
On the conference call this morning, our reporter was told you'd be able to provide this information.
Thank you!

Amy,
I am checking to see if you have any figures on the cost of the Airshow trip, since the governor said to check with you folks. Thanks!
