Thanks Amy. Yes. It is early morning on the 13th for the 7:25 a.m. JFK outbound direct flight which should arrive around 9 a.m.

Since everyone will need to be in NY the evening prior due to the earliness of the flight. There is a New York event the night before with JetBlue executives and travel media along with airport dignitaries. It will be from 5-7 p.m. at the Gansevoort Hotel in their appropriately titled "blue room."

It should be a quick "in and out event" for Governor Haley and we will make it as seamless if possible. We're thrilled that JetBlue has expanded its South Carolina service so quickly following their entrance in to Charleston. And they've already expanded capacity to our Savannah/Hilton Head International Airport due to demand before the first flight on the 13th takes off!

Hi Charlie –

I met with Katherine yesterday and she will circle back and check with the Governor's scheduler. She will let us know as soon as she hears! Just to confirm, the date is Feb 13th, correct?

Amy – We're much further along in the planning process, actually just got out of a planning meeting with Bill & Susan so I think I have some timing information that might be helpful. The inaugural flight takes off from NY at 7:25 a.m. and would land at the Sav/Hilton Head Airport appx 9 a.m. There is a brief reception with JetBlue and media the night before in NY.

Let me know if the early flight helps at all since it's a smaller portion of her day depending on where she's flying after the inaugural flight lands that morning.

Hi Charlie –

Hope you had a wonderful Thanksgiving!

I apologize for taking so long to get back to you on this ... I checked with Katherine and Nicole, the Governor's scheduler, and the Governor will NOT be able to take part in any of the inaugural flight festivities that would be scheduled for Feb 13th. At this point, I have a tentative hold on Duane's calendar, in case you all need him to take part in anything.

Let us know how we can help!

Thanks so much!
