Subject: Exclusive Norwegian Past-Guest Offers

Dear Mr. Kester,

I'm pleased to present three money-saving offers for our customers who are past passengers of Norwegian.

Offer #1: Norwegian's all-inclusive luxury sister brand, Regent Seven Seas Cruises, is offering big discounts of up to 85% as well as exclusive shipboard credits of up to $800 per cabin on select sailings. Regent fares include unlimited shore excursions, gratuities, unlimited beverages including fine wines and premium spirits and unlimited Wi-Fi. Book by May 15. See dates and prices.

Regent is one of only a handful of six-star lines, and its intimate ships carry 490 to 750 passengers and offer all-suite accommodations with ocean views. Most staterooms have private balconies. Travelers can expect impeccable service, gourmet cuisine and engaging enrichment programs. There is no charge to dine in the specialty restaurants or for 24-hour room service. You even can enjoy in-suite dining served course by course during restaurant hours.

Offer #2: Norwegian's other sister brand, Oceania Cruises -- known for its destination-rich itineraries -- is offering fantastic savings of up to 80% and exclusive shipboard credits of up to $1,200 per cabin on select sailings. Book by May 15. See dates and prices.

Oceania's midsize ships visit more than 370 destinations worldwide on unique itineraries. Ships often stay in port late into the evening or overnight there. Shore excursions -- like a collection of Culinary Discovery Tours -- delve into the culture and history of the sailing region. Guests are pampered in an elegant, country club ambience with superb service and an outstanding dining program guided by master chef Jacques Pepin, the line's executive culinary director.

Offer #3: Norwegian is providing discounts of up to 86% for our customers, as well as exclusive shipboard credits of up to $250 per cabin on nearly all voyages departing through 2018. Book an ocean-view cabin or higher on select cruises and choose two of the following amenities: 1) a beverage package for two, 2) a specialty dining package that includes up to four meals for two guests, 3) 250 minutes of Internet or 4) a shore excursion credit of $50 per cabin, per port. Plus, on select sailings pay no government taxes for the first two passengers in balcony cabins or higher. Book by May 14. See dates and prices.

This week, I'm happy to present some fantastic offers from Royal Caribbean, Cunard, Azamara and Paul Gauguin Cruises. They include shipboard credits, which are as good as cash on the ship and can be used toward onboard purchases not covered in the cruise fare, like spa treatments and shore excursions.

Royal Caribbean is offering Vacations To Go customers huge discounts of up to 80%. Also receive exclusive shipboard credits of up to $450 per cabin and pay 50% reduced deposits on nearly every sailing. Book by May 9. See dates and prices.

Cunard has just reduced rates by up to 74% for Vacations To Go. Also enjoy exclusive shipboard credits of up to $1,200 per cabin on select sailings. Past guests may see better rates on certain departures. Book by May 8. See dates and prices.

Azamara is offering our customers big discounts -- save up to 77%. Also receive shipboard credits of up to $2,500 per cabin on select voyages. Azamara is known for scheduling longer stays and more overnights in port so guests can experience more of the destination. Rates include gratuities, drinks and, on most cruises, a nighttime shore excursion called "AzAmazing Evening."
Book by May 15. See dates and prices.

Paul Gauguin Cruises is offering our customers discounts of up to 50% on its French Polynesia cruises. In addition, get exclusive shipboard credits of up to $950 per cabin on a variety of departures. Book by June 30. See dates and prices.

As always, these offers are for new bookings only and subject to availability. Restrictions may apply.

In this business, I have met a lot of people who seem to cruise all the time. They're barely off the ship when they call to book their next departure, or better yet, book them two or three at a time.

They've sworn off land-based trips and pledged allegiance to the sea. They've done the seven-day Caribbean, Alaska, maybe the Mediterranean, and are hungry for something new and different ... a truly grand voyage.

Cruise addicts, I feel your pain. For you, we created an exclusive list of the world's most tempting grand voyages. These are longer sailings that visit more than one region or continent, and we scour the itineraries of every cruise line as they are released, looking for unique and irresistible possibilities. Click here to see this exclusive list now, with every available discount rolled in.

The most coveted of all grand voyages are the world cruises. Most depart in the month of January. Currently there are 20 ships committed to 33 world cruise departures in 2018, and eight ships scheduled for 18 world cruises in 2019. There also are a few departures set for this month and December 2017. Our world cruises are offered by Azamara, Cruise & Maritime Voyages, Costa, Crystal, Cunard, Holland America, MSC, Oceania, P&O, Princess, Regent, Seabourn, Silversea and Viking.

Most upcoming world cruises are 80 nights or longer -- with options up to 180 nights -- and among these, the least expensive ones start at just under $13,000 per person. (Click here for a list of all world cruises and world cruise segments.) For those who still are reading, it's better to look at the per-day price and take into account all that is included.

The best deals for world cruises are always available well in advance and come in the form of early booking discounts, past-passenger discounts and additional discounts that apply only to the customers of the largest sellers of cruises, like Vacations To Go.

If you're not in a position to spend nearly three months or more circumnavigating the globe, you may want to consider some of our other "grand voyage" options.

For example, several ships in the Mediterranean offer enticing back-to-back (or back-to-back-to-back) itineraries that make it possible to sail for 14 to 28 nights with little or no port overlap. Some of these cruises combine Eastern and Western Mediterranean itineraries (click here) or the Mediterranean with the Greek Isles (click here). A few ships offer the possibility to combine Mediterranean and Northern Europe sailings (click here).

Or you can spend 14 to 24 nights exploring the tropical locales of the Western and Eastern Caribbean (click here).

I also like back-to-back sailings as a ship repositions from one region to another, for the great variety in countries visited. I once booked a family cruise on a Regent ship as it ended its season in Bermuda and repositioned to Europe via New England, Canada and Iceland. We began our vacation on warm, pink-sand beaches in Bermuda and ended by climbing an ice wall on a glacier in Iceland. Only on a cruise could such an adventure be so easy.

Some of the possibilities include Alaska & Asia, Panama Canal & Caribbean, Transatlantic & Caribbean, Transatlantic & Mediterranean and Transatlantic & Northern Europe.

Or, try Antarctica & South America, Asia & Africa, Australia/New Zealand & Asia/Far East, Australia/New Zealand & Tahiti or Hawaii & Tahiti.

Other intriguing combinations include Transatlantic & South America, Panama Canal & South America or Caribbean & South America.

If you live near one of the departure ports for grand voyages, the list of places you can visit on a cruise leaving locally may seem hard to believe. For example, in November, passengers can board the Norwegian Sun in Miami and spend a week in the Caribbean, then head for ports in Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Chile, plus make a full Panama Canal transit, before disembarking in Santiago (25 nights, starting price $1,678 per person -- just $67 per day. Click here for details).

In October, Holland America's Veendam departs Fort Lauderdale and crosses the Atlantic Ocean to visit 22 ports in southern Europe -- from Lisbon, Gibraltar and Palma de Mallorca to Dubrovnik, Corfu and Sicily - plus Casablanca in Morocco. En route back to Florida, it makes a stop in the Bahamas (49 nights, starting price $4,499 per person, or $91 a day. Click here for details).

In October, you can join the Carnival Freedom in Galveston for a round-trip voyage to seaside destinations in Honduras, Belize, Mexico and Costa Rica, and to the Caribbean islands of Jamaica, Aruba and Curacao. This itinerary also includes a partial Panama Canal transit (21 nights, starting price $1,978 per person, or $94 per day. Click here for details).

Beyond what I've listed here, if you ever run across any other back-to-back cruises you would like to combine, our cruise counselors will be happy to check for additional discounts and help you plan your own unforgettable grand voyage.
