Rob and Chaney,

Gov. Haley said in mid-March that she expected to support the GOP nominee for president, but to ask her again later -- presumably when it was clearer who that would be.

It's pretty clear now. Does the Governor have anything new to say TODAY re: the fact that Donald Trump appears to have locked up the nomination?

Does she expect to support him for president? What effect does she think this development will have on the GOP? How does she think Trump will fare in SC in November?

THANKS! Deadline today...

Tim -

Chaney Adams, who is also from North Carolina and is copied here, will get you video of what the governor said in response to Andy's question.

Let us know what else we can help you with.
