I have my suspicions as to what her position on an RPS would be, but I've never discussed the issue with her. When do you need to reply by? Is there time for me to explain to her how an RPS works?

See below. Thoughts on this?

Dear Mr. Taillon,

I am Bill Poovey, the GSA Business reporter who asked you about the governor's view on the issue of whether South Carolina should have a renewable portfolio standard. I am writing a follow-up to a story in which BMW manufacturing's energy chief said BMW wants the state to enact such a standard that would provide tax incentives for companies like BMW that are developing and using solar and methane gas as power sources. I appreciate that the governor doesn't want to comment on specific legislation. Otherwise, does she favor setting a requirement for electrical utilities to provide specified levels of their product using alternative energy sources.

Thank you for considering my request.
