South Carolina State Parks

Decorating the sides of many of South Carolina's waterways and ponds, the violet-blue flowers of the Pickerelweed (pontederia cordata) add pops of color to the summertime greenery and attract pollinators such as bees and butterflies. You can see these at parks like Colonial Dorchester in Summerville. <https://southcarolinaparks.com/colonial-dorchester>

Diane Fletcher I have such an affinity with both South Carolina and the state parks in SC! :)
