Ted's in with her right now, but will be out shortly. Pending his thoughts...

Governor Haley is fighting for Accountability-Based Funding for South Carolina's public colleges and universities and believes that these institutions should be funded based upon their performance. She is committed to providing regulatory relief for the entire higher education system before focusing on any individual institution's additional priorities.

Rob,
I'm doing a story about S. 535, the Clemson University Enterprise Act.
Does the governor have a position on this? Does she have any concerns about transparency and accountability if this passes?
