Priority: Urgent

Comments: Good afternoon Governor,

This is a follow-up- regarding a package sent to you earlier from Ron Lammert, president and CEO of Historical Publishing Network (HPN) to publish a book on Manufacturing in South Carolina.

He asked me to check with you to discuss the possibility/viability he outlined for you. I have been writing for Mr. Lammert for about 12 years; and, before that managed Gov. David Beasley's Putting Families First effort via Leslie Advertising. As the designated writer for the proposed book on our state's manufacturing efforts, I would undertake research from the very early days, transitioning it from textiles to modern-day, high-technology manufacturing. I would hope to explore such topics as: 1) the number employed in manufacturing, the types of manufacturing today, the diversity, the economic challenges, incentives that the state offers, the tax structure, and more.

We would like to arrange a one-on-one meeting with you (and Mr. Hitt) at your convenience to further pursue the project, and to gain input from your perspective.

You may contact me via email or telephone listed in upper left. If possible, please give us at least a week's notice so Mr. Lammert could coordinate travel plans to Columbia.

Kindest regards,

Garnette Bane
