I wanted to make sure everyone knew that DSS is going to be making this the 2015 child fatality numbers live on their website today.

You can find the link below to the NON-live version of the webpage they will be posting.

Let me know if anyone has any questions.

Brian,
Below is a link to the test page for the 2015 fatality data. This is not a live link on our website. After you have reviewed, give me a call with any questions and to discuss messaging. My recommendation is to publish to the website on Monday, but I want your thoughts.
Karen
