Hey,

Question:

While proficiency in a foreign language is not a prerequisite to serve in the diplomatic corps, it is an asset.

Question: Does the governor have any skills in a second language?

Spanish is by far the most common foreign language in the South Carolina public education system. Is she accomplished in that?

Or German, given the state's recent concentration on attracting German industries beginning in the 1980s?

And if she is fluent or skilled in the language of her parents, is that the case?

If so, at what level and what is the proper name of the language?
