Office of Governor Nikki Haley
1205 Pendleton Street
Columbia, SC 29201

Dear Governor Haley:

The National Academy of Future Physicians and Medical Scientists is proud to have accepted 62 high school honor students to represent the State of South Carolina as Delegates at the Congress of Future Medical Leaders to be held at the Tsongas Center at UMass Lowell in Lowell, MA, from June 25 to June 27, 2016.

I have attached a listing of these exceptional students. It would be an enormous honor for these high-achieving, young leaders to be recognized by you. You can also access this information at www.NationalAcademyGovernmentAffairs.us.

The Congress is an honors-only program for high school students who want to become physicians or go into medical research fields. The purpose of this event is to honor, inspire, motivate and direct the top students in our country who aspire to be physicians or medical scientists. After the Congress, the Academy provides a path, plan and mentoring to help them reach their goal.

Inspiring the young people at the Congress are luminaries of the medical field as well as leaders from government and the public sector, including include Nobel Prize winners, top medical school deans, leaders in medical research and cutting edge technology, as well as leaders from private industry.

All Delegates are nominated by their teachers or the Academy based on proven academic excellence and demonstrated desire to enter the medical profession. The Congress of Future Medical Leaders has strict academic requirements, and students must have a minimum 3.5 GPA (or equivalent) to be nominated. Students at the Congress represent all fifty states and Puerto Rico.

Some five hundred places at the Congress are reserved for students on full academic scholarship who are selected by their teacher or guidance counselor based on their leadership ability, academic achievement and dedication. In addition, the Academy is proud to offer partial scholarships for students with financial need.

The National Academy of Future Physicians and Medical Scientists was founded on the belief that we must identify prospective medical talent at the earliest possible age and help these students acquire the necessary experience and skills to take them to the doorstep of this vital career.

Based in Cambridge, MA, with an office in Washington, D.C., the Academy was chartered as a nonpartisan, taxpaying institution to help address this crisis by working to identify, encourage and mentor students who wish to devote their lives to the service of humanity as physicians, medical scientists, technologists, engineers and mathematicians.

The Academy offers free services and programs to students who want to be physicians or go into medical science. Some of the services and programs the Academy plans to launch are online social networks through which future doctors and medical scientists can communicate; opportunities for students to be guided and mentored by physicians and medical students; and communications for parents and students on college acceptance and finances, skills acquisition, internships, career guidance and much more.

If you are interested in learning more about the Congress of Future Medical Leaders or the Academy, please feel free to contact Lisa Rossi, Director of Public Affairs at 202-599-8442 x701 or LisaRossi@FutureDocs.com.
