We have not gotten a chance to meet, but my name is Ken Breivik and Governor Haley appointed me as Chairman of the South Carolina Small Business Regulatory Review Committee. At the time the Governor and Ted Pitts asked me to take over leadership of the Committee there was strained relationships between the Committee and a number of the agencies. Over the last year all of this has change and I believe that the agencies that we work with regularly would say that we work well with them even as we advocate on behalf of small businesses. Ted was helpful getting me introduced to some of the agency heads, but since then we have been able to move things forward without me needing to bother you or the staff. I did think it important for us to meet and the Committee did ask me to discuss with you one issue that impacts all small businesses related to the business personal property tax.

If you had any time available in your schedule the weeks of either October 12th or 19th, I could work around your schedule any day (Monday – Thursdays are best for me).

Thank you for your service to our state and I look forward to meeting you in the near future.

Ken
