Friend,

The end of the quarter is tonight at midnight which means you only have a few hours left to donate and help me keep South Carolina on its path to success.

Tonight at midnight is the deadline and we'll have to publicly disclose how much money we have raised this year. And do you know who will be watching extra close to plot their next move? The Democrats. They're already targeting South Carolina in their scheme to turn our country blue this November. But if we finish this quarter strong, we can show them that their failed policies are not welcome here.

Can I count on you to click here and donate $10, $20 or $30?

Make sure you don't miss this important deadline. Click here to donate and show the Democrats that South Carolinians support strong, conservative principles.

My very best,

Nikki
