Subject: State Fire Marshall

Jonathan,

I have someone who is interested in the position of State Fire Marshall. He stated that Director Templeton appointed him as the Acting State Fire Marshal at one point. His name is Edward Young Roper, Jr.

Can you see if that name rings a bell with CT?

Thanks,
Katie

Katie:

This is the most up to date list we have of LLR boards. It the items you are looking for and some that you might not need, contact info, etc. So you may want to format it to your liking.

Let me know if you need anything else or have questions.

Thanks.

Ted,

Holly and I are comfortable with both these individuals. I have to say that I recommend Bert because I have someone to fill his position as Assistant State Fire Marshal and I don't think he will stay beyond Governor Haley's term. Chief Blackwell will want to stay for 12 years and I believe for the Division of Fire and Life Safety and the state fire service they need someone to finish out what we have started and then let someone new and with more energy come in and make more changes. I am sorry for placing such a burden at this point.

Burt starts work here on the 14th and could meet that week or prior to the 23rd. Chief Blackwell will not be available for a meeting until the week of the 21st.

Thanks,

Shane Ray

Mark,

There are several positions on the Building Codes Council that the Governor can select names for. The others are recommended by various associations (as I'm sure you know).

Two positions that we're responsible for have terms that have expired:

Architect: James Timothy Hance, term expired 1/1/2014

Code Enforcement Officer: Darbis L. Briggman, term expired 1/1/2014

Ted wanted me to touch base with you and see if you had any thoughts about these individuals' reappointments or if you had other recommendations.

Give me a call at 803-201-3423 if you have any questions or would prefer to discuss on the phone.

Katie,

I hope you are doing well. If possible, could you hold up the renewal of Frank Clark to the commission? He is having some health issues and may not be able to continue to serve in a full capacity. He is seeing his doctors this week and I should have more information in the next few weeks.

Michelin chief: S.C. roads ‘a disgrace’

By Chuck Crumbo

ccrumbo@scbiznews.com

Published Nov. 19, 2014

South Carolina's roads are in such bad shape that the chief of Michelin North America thinks his company might have to consider other locations for expansion.

"The roads in this state are a disgrace," Pete Selleck, chairman and president of Greenville-based Michelin North America, said in pointing out South Carolina has a $30 billion shortfall in road funding. "If that does not get solved then Michelin is going to have to look about further expansion in this state."

Selleck offered his thoughts Wednesday during a recruiting trip at the University of South Carolina's Darla Moore School of Business. The company held its first "Michelin Day" to deepen its relationship with the university and grow its talent pipeline.

Speaking to a packed lecture hall, Selleck listed a number of reasons why Michelin has liked doing business in South Carolina over 40 years. The company has become the state's largest manufacturing employer with nearly 8,000 workers at its Greenville headquarters and seven plants, including two in Lexington County.

<image001.jpg> The company, which has its international corporate headquarters in Clermont-Ferrand, France, also has North American facilities in Alabama, Georgia, Indiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma and the Canadian province of Nova Scotia.

Selleck

While praising the quality of the workforce and technical college system in South Carolina, Selleck made it clear that funding the state's road system is a top priority for the business community.

"We're $30 billion behind on the road system," Selleck said, citing a S.C. Department of Transportation study of funding needs for the next 20 years. "The ironic thing is that bad roads, which damage tires, are actually good for our business. But that doesn't make any sense at all."

"They need to be fixed, and that probably means some combination of a gas tax increase and some other funding source are going to have to be found," Selleck said.

Last year, the Legislature passed and Gov. Nikki Haley signed a bill that commits more than $600 million for building and repairing roads and bridges. It was the first increase in state funding for highways in nearly three decades.

Selleck said that wasn't enough to fix the problem. "Right now, the whole funding thing is out of whack."

Selleck made the comments in answer to a student's question about the state's growing tire industry, which includes Michelin, along with Bridgestone and Continental. Two other companies, Giti and Trelleborg, announced plans last spring to expand to South Carolina.

Selleck's remarks also came on the eve of Michelin's announcement that it would be manufacturing the "tweel," an airless tire, at a plant in Piedmont. Initially, the tweel will be used mostly for industrial applications, Selleck said.

In the fourth quarter of 2013, South Carolina emerged as the nation's No. 1 manufacturer of tires, rolling out more than 89,000 tires daily, according to the trade publication Tire Business.

The top reason for locating in South Carolina is the state's workforce, Selleck said.

"They are hard-working. They are dedicated. They communicate extremely clearly," Selleck said. "When we walk down the plant and there's a problem, they will get right in your face and tell you exactly what they think. And if you come back a little later and there's still a problem they will get right back in your face again and tell you what they really think. And they will also tell you, by the way, if you've solved a problem, they'll tell you that, too.

"There's a culture of very direct communication, which is a benefit in manufacturing."

RE: Market Assistance Referral

Dear Mr. Twisdale:

Thank you so much for your email, and for forwarding Mr. Green's questions to me. Mr. Green and I have already chatted, and I was able to address his questions.

As your email noted, Mr. Green was not satisfied with the rate quote that he received from his insurer. As you know, the South Carolina Department of Insurance encourages property owners to shop around comparing insurance coverage and prices before agreeing to accept any offer. We have offered, and Mr. Green has graciously accepted our offer of assistance. In fact, we are currently assisting Mr. Green through the Department's Market Assistance Program. Mr. Joseph McDonald, our Coastal Consumer Liaison, is assisting Mr. Green by helping him shop his policy. In doing so, Mr. McDonald will help Mr. Green 1) identify insurers writing the type of property insurance coverage he needs; and 2) identify producers or agents in Mr. Green's community with property insurance markets who could help Mr. Green compare prices for the types of coverage offered.

We believe we may be able to help him. In any event, we will monitor the situation closely and follow up as necessary. Thank you again for your email, and for providing an opportunity to help a South Carolina insurance consumer.

As I indicated when we met this past December, customer service is very important to me. Our market assistance services will be made available to any consumer who requests our help. Please do not hesitate to contact me any time I can be of assistance to you or a member of your community.

Sincerely,

Ray Farmer

Jesse,

As I have seen your emails on Hilton Head insurance rates, you may be interested in the following.
My premium with Occidental Fire and Casualty Co. of NC, Home Owners with wind and hail coverage, is being increased 25.5%, effective with 05/01/13-05/01/14 renewal.

I called the SC Dept. of Insurance and was informed the company had justified the new increases with the department's actuaries.

Who does one complain to at the town level? I am looking for a new insurer.

Thanks.

Thanks! It was actually a briefing for congressional staff on legislation just introduced by a NJ Rep. (Sires) (invite below). The bill would provide federal reinsurance backstop to state insurance programs so they are less reliant on volatile global market during mega-catastrophes. Here's more:

RE: Market Assistance Referral

Dear Mr. Twisdale:

Following up on your previous emails regarding Mr. Green's premium increase, it is the Department's duty to make sure that rates are not inadequate, excessive, or unfairly discriminatory enabling insurance companies to remain solvent and pay claims. Like each rate filing, Occidental Fire and Casualty's (Occidental) filing was complex, which they supported with data. Our actuarial team reviewed and analyzed the data supplied by Occidental with its rate request thoroughly before approving the request.

Occidental adjusted rating variables that it uses such as a home's age, a home's roof age, and distance within five miles of the coast. This likely occurred because of the level of risk Occidental felt is covered by its policies. It is important to note that while Mr. Green experienced an increase of 25.5%, other consumers insured by Occidental experienced rate decreases, while some experienced rate increases greater than Mr. Green's.

One point often forgotten in the discussion about risk is that, even when an area is not directly hit by a significant storm, that area can still experience significant loss as a result of that storm's proximity. Using historical data, each insurance company hypothesizes the loss a one hundred year storm could cause in an area and seeks to have the funds for such an event. Occidental underwrites a substantial amount of risk close to the beach and our actuarial review determined that Occidental's rate is not excessive, inadequate, nor unfairly discriminatory.

Although the rate is higher than the insured anticipated, we continue to encourage all South Carolina consumers to shop around each time their policy is renewed in order to obtain the most appropriate coverage and cost for their individual risks.

Additionally, I understand that Will Davis from our office is working with you to gain further clarification on your question regarding Occidental's rating of the projected cost of repair per $1,000 home evaluation that will help us to accurately respond.

Sincerely,

Ray Farmer

Hi Ray

Thank you very much for the quick attention to Mr. Green's email about his insurance company wanting a 25.5% rate increase. I did speak to Mr. Green and he will follow up with your offer to help with shopping for another insurance company.

I still would like to see the basis of the insurance company's rate hike when we have not had a storm or hail event for a minimum of 8-10 years? Under what basis does the insurance company feel they need to raise the costs of insurance that much?

RE: Market Assistance Referral

Dear Mr. Twisdale:

Thank you so much for your email, and for forwarding Mr. Green's questions to me. Mr. Green and I have already chatted, and I was able to address his questions.

As your email noted, Mr. Green was not satisfied with the rate quote that he received from his insurer. As you know, the South Carolina Department of Insurance encourages property owners to shop around comparing insurance coverage and prices before agreeing to accept any offer. We have offered, and Mr. Green has graciously accepted our offer of assistance. In fact, we are currently assisting Mr. Green through the Department's Market Assistance Program. Mr. Joseph McDonald, our Coastal Consumer Liaison, is assisting Mr. Green by helping him shop his policy. In doing so, Mr. McDonald will help Mr. Green 1) identify insurers writing the type of property insurance coverage he needs; and 2) identify producers or agents in Mr. Green's community with property insurance markets who could help Mr. Green compare prices for the types of coverage offered.

We believe we may be able to help him. In any event, we will monitor the situation closely and follow up as necessary. Thank you again for your email, and for providing an opportunity to help a South Carolina insurance consumer.

As I indicated when we met this past December, customer service is very important to me. Our market assistance services will be made available to any consumer who requests our help. Please do not hesitate to contact me any time I can be of assistance to you or a member of your community.

Sincerely,

Ray Farmer

As I have seen your emails on Hilton Head insurance rates, you may be interested in the following.

My premium with Occidental Fire and Casualty Co. of NC, Home Owners with wind and hail coverage, is being increased 25.5%, effective with 05/01/13-05/01/14 renewal.

I called the SC Dept.of Insurance and was informed the company had justified the new increases with the department's actuaries.

Who does one complain to at the town level? I am looking for a new insurer.

Thanks.

Andy, Thank you for your offer of assistance and your work with Daryl and Tom Davis on this issue.

41 Oyster Reef Drive is a 1994 McNair built 3219 H sq.ft. 1 ½ story hard stucco primary residence. It has two bedrooms 3 ½ baths, a could be 3rd bedroom used as a den and a large "bonus: or media room with a full pool table and sitting area.

Pretty standard stuff with new roof in 2013 assessed value over $700,000 but insured at $644,000. Home owners carried by Nationwide. Just (January) paid $4967 to Nationwide for SC W&H pool coverage – HO is separate.

Two agencies since December have tried or have had quotes from 3 of the over 8 companies they deal with on HO and W&H. The W&H quotes with HO were all higher as was the stand alone W&H which no one writes without the HO policy.

Questions please – no claims over last 19 years – good credit score.

I really appreciate your interest and willingness to try to help.

I have lived within 5 miles of the SC coast on Hilton head Island for 10 years. I have had my Homeowners Insurance with USAA for 50 years and until 2009 USAA included Wind & Hail. The premium for W&H from USAA in 2009 was approximately $1000 to insure a 2000 sq.ft home, with a new roof. My home, completely updated inside and out, sits at 20' elevation. It is a wood frame with an attached 2 car garage. I have never made an insurance claim on the home for anything.

In 2009 USAA was persuaded by the computer models that , even though the company had never paid an insurance claim in Beaufort co/Hilton Head Island in the company's history-----they dropped my Wind & Hail insurance and I was forced to purchase same from the only agency available....the state of SC. The rate was double what the previous rate was!

I called USAA and reminded them of my excellent history with the company and the fact that Hilton Head Island had no particular history of claims from damage from hurricanes or floods. The president of the company took my call-----probably because I was a 50 year member-----and told me personally that he was unable to argue with the computer models, despite evidence that suggested this area was not in a specific danger zone.

Present Federal Flood Control maps show my property NOT to be in the flood zone. Hilton Head Island has no particular history of hurricane damage, and the very reputable company that has underwritten every type of insurance for me for 50 years took none of that into consideration when they unilaterally dropped my W & H Rider. They were beholden----because of liability issues----to follow flawed computer model data, that based its results on inaccurate input, and drop my W&H Rider forcing me to pay premiums that are unreasonable and unnecessary.

Subject: State Housing Rally on January 12

Ted & Rob,

It was a cold walk this afternoon, but it paid off when I got to catch both of you at the same time. You both looked refreshed and ready for 2012!

As you are aware, on January 12, 2012 the Home Builders Association and its housing partners (realtors, home owners, municipal assn, Urban League, etc.) will be holding a housing rally at the SC Statehouse at 1 - 1:45 p.m. to promote the value of home ownership. The focus will be on the value of home ownership for families, the industry, and the country. We are expecting close to 400 attendees. We are also expecting several Presidential Candidates to speak at the rally. The focus is to get out a positive message on the value of home ownership. We are not going to be pushing any specific legislative proposals, just awareness of the issue.

We regret that the Governor can't join us, but understand we need all the new jobs we can get, so we are looking forward to yet another economic development announcement from the Governor. Keep them coming!

Thank you for volunteering the Governor's assistance on the Housing Rally. We have three requests:

1. We would like the Governor to provide a quote on the value of housing in South Carolina and tape a small video clip on Wednesday afternoon in her office on January 11 at her convenience. The film crew will be available all afternoon on January 11. Rob just let me know what you need. I attached a copy of the brochure for your review.
2. We would appreciate if Tim would reach out to the Romney campaign and encourage them to participate in the Housing Rally. We would like to have all the fore runners in the primary race in attendance for brief comments. Great free exposure for the candidates one week before the SC primary. We have not been successful in getting our information to the key Romney campaign staff so far.

3. Consider having the Governor sign the petition (attached), if she is willing. It focuses on getting the feds to address repressive regulatory issues that will bring common sense back to the marketplace and get our nation back on the road to recovery.

Please let me know when you have something definite on these requests. The state local, state and national HBA stand by to help in any way we can.

Also, please thank the Governor for her willingness to assist us on this important event. She has been a long-time supporter of our homebuilding industry

Keep up the good work and let us know how we can help.

Thanks,

Julian

M-I spoke to the Executive Director of the Home Builders Association and they would like 1-2 sentences (the one below is 3) from you for their Bird Supper, since you were unable to do a video. Here is the proposed statement that will be read by their present Darryl Hall, a builder from Florence. They did not want a letter. Rob approved the below as well. Thanks, Katherine

Dear Mr. LaCoss,

Thank you for your e-mail to the Governor regarding the windows in the Lethco's home not meeting the building code. This is a very common issue that is a barrier to licensing foster homes in South Carolina. The solve to this problem requires a change in the Fire Marshall Regulation which is currently pending in the legislature. I have attached a draft of the Regulation for your convenience and I am hopeful that this will pass this session.

I also followed-up with Jackie Lowe, the head of DSS Foster Care Licensing, regarding the Lethco's license. Jackie is aware of the issue and is working on it as we speak.

Please let me know if you need any additional information.

Good morning Katie,

I have checked with staff that are involved with plan review and licensing/permitting. Several people know Mr. Lehman but have no direct information or issues that would cause us to recommend replacement.

Thank you for the opportunity for input.

Chief Polk,

I wanted to see if you knew anything about Daniel B. Lehman, who currently sits in the Burglar or Fire Alarms Systems seat on the State Licensing Board for Contractors. We are looking to see if he would be a good person to reappoint (term expired in 2012) or if we should look for a new name.

If you do not know anything about Mr. Lehman, we'll defer to Director Taylor, but we wanted to keep you in the loop! Feel free to give me a call on my cell phone if you prefer to discuss this outside of email.
