Why has the governor declined to ask for direct aid from Congress for farmers? Hugh Weathers just said he made Haley's office aware of the problem, and she declined to include farmers in her request, saying farmers are no different than other small businesses. So what does that mean in terms of why she opposes making the request? The Senate committee voted to send the governor a letter by 5 p.m. today asking her to change her mind and ask for the aid from the federal budget.
