Let's plan on 10 am. I'll just get with John separately. We will want to talk through what the next steps should be (trying to get with the Duke Endowment on that as well) so if you have five minutes to talk that through with Tony before then that would be great and we can strategize how to move forward and what role y'all want us to play. That way the three of us will be on the same page before Jeff gets to town.

Thanks very much-

Joe

Can you still likely meet on Friday? This will be the presentation of the final draft for input including the financial model.
