Dear Nikki Haley,

On September 30, The Wall Street Journal will host the inaugural Women in the Workplace dinner in New York at the Park Hyatt.

This special dinner will celebrate the findings of the Lean In and McKinsey & Company "Women in the Workplace" research study, to be covered in a special report published by the Journal earlier that day. Scheduled to introduce the "Women in the Workplace" data are Sheryl Sandberg, COO of Facebook and co-founder of LeanIn.Org, and Dominic Barton, Global Managing Director of McKinsey & Company.

We invite you to join the nation's most prominent female executives, global leaders and members of the Journal's prestigious CEO Council at this dinner. By attending, you will have the opportunity to be part of an exclusive, interactive "insider deep dive" into the data and the study.

The evening will begin at 6 pm with a welcome reception, followed by dinner. In addition to the presentation of the study, the evening will also feature a panel discussion with PepsiCo's Indra Nooyi and Bank of America's Brian Moynihan.
