Can you include this letter in the update please? Summary for the update:

The Investment Commission and the Treasurer's Office are once again fighting over whether or not to fund an investment that the Commission has already approved. The Commission sent a longer letter to the Treasurer's Office on Friday night; this new letter draws a line in the sand for the Treasurer to declare his intentions by 5PM Tuesday. The deadline to fund the investment is at the end of this week and we're hearing backchannel reports that the Treasurer intends to go to the Supreme Court again.
