Ken,

I've done a first read-through on the Finance Committee amendment and have compiled the attached list of issues/concerns. A few of these are technical matters that I mentioned earlier, while others are more substantive than technical. I don't expect anything from you on most of those, naturally, but it's late, and frankly, I don't feel like making multiple lists of issues with this amendment at this point (substantive vs. technical)...so it's all in one document.

Please feel free to share with whoever's appropriate on your side. I'm tied up from 8-9 in the morning, but am otherwise available to discuss, if you like. I appreciate that several of these are kinda out there. Thanks.
