Brian,

Just wanted to pass this along to you re: a tweet that came from the Governor's twitter account yesterday about the Michelin development.

Hello Matt,

Again, thank you and the Governor for sending the Tweet congratulating Michelin on the decision to build out new, high-tech warehouse in Spartanburg. Greatly appreciate it!!

One thing: we noticed (people who know every tread pattern we have, I should say) that the tire being shown in the Tweet is not actually a Michelin product. I am sure it was just a bit of a mix up and no one is really that concerned.

Can you have someone on your staff substitute that photo for the one I have attached? We would be very grateful.

Let me know (can you "reply all" so Lauren Davis sees it as well). I am few short moments from going to the airport.

Best regards,
