I was born in Virginia, but lived most of my life in Ohio. I have lived for the past nine years in South Carolina teaching at Limestone College. From the beginning of my time in South Carolina, I have been totally amazed at how, we are still fighting the Civil War. No one here understands the real reason for the Civil War, and many seem to be fighting it still. Many times in my classes we discuss the confederate flag, and many students feel it represents so much of what is wrong in this country. This is a symbol of hate and oppression--one that you as, governor, must understand. As I watched the press conference today and watched you cry, I was so amazed at how you could still fly that flag of hatred and allow such lax gun laws in our state. If you are moved to tears, will you be moved to action on doing the right thing with removing the flag and helping to make us safe with better gun control.

Please, please, please remove the confederate flag from ALL SC government buildings. It is way past time to pack it away. It is disgraceful. It encourages the young bigots I see around Myrtle Beach with the confederate flag flying from their pick up trucks.

I urge the governor to permanently remove the confederate flag from the statehouse and all government buildings in South Carolina, first in honor of the nine African American South Carolinians who were recently murdered by a white man in their own church, and second to make a small step toward combating the racism that is still deeply rooted in this country. Leaving the flag up is an affront to human dignity and sends the message that racist acts of terror such as this are permissible.

Take down the confederate flag from the state capitol grounds now. What Dylann Roof did was not even remotely "unthinkable". It has happened in one form or another many many times, far too often in your state. Mr. Roof appears to have been animated by white supremacy that flag clearly symbolizes. I ask you: Take down that flag. Now and forever.

Dear Governor Haley:

One of the photos posted of the alleged shooter of the parishioners at Emanuel AME Church shows him standing in front of his car, which has license plates with the Confederate flag on it. Given his actions, and the other symbols he's worn and stood in front of in photographs endorsing white supremacy, I think this is one reason why people find it hard to accept that the same flag is flying full force in front of the South Carolina capitol building, when the US and South Carolina flag are flying at half mast to honor the victims. Please do whatever you can to remove the flag. It is an insult to Emanuel AME, its slain pastor and state senator, the victims and their families, and, frankly, the citizens of South Carolina to have it still flying.

Best wishes,

Erica N [REDACTED]

In light of the tragic killings in Charleston, which police were quick to deem a racially motivated hate crime, Americans all over the country plead with South Carolina to take down the Confederate flag by the statehouse, as this is rightly echoes as a symbol of racial hatred and divisiveness and may serve to fuel the deformed and bitter hatred that must have motivated Dylann Roof. In light of yesterday night's events, when terrible violence was perpetrated in a beacon of the struggle for civil rights, it seems clear that this symbol does much more harm than they good, idealizing, as the shooter likely did, a recent past when African Americans were disenfranchised of their rights. It is reprehensible and irresponsible of the state of South Carolina to continue to legitimize the Confederate flag that is known to symbolize and advocate for white supremacy and domestic terrorism against African American citizens.

Since the shooting in Charleston was clearly motivated by racism, it is shameful to see the Confederate flag, the banner of racism, flying at full mast on the State House grounds. If the governor has no authority to lower it herself, she should take the initiative to ask the legislature to lower it.

Better yet, get rid of the Confederate flag (my great grandfather fought under it, so I feel a responsibility to ask for its removal).

Dear Governor Haley,

I write you today to express my deepest sympathies over the deadly event that took place at the American Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, SC last night. You and the people of your state are in my thoughts and prayers.

I'm sure you are aware of the history of racial struggle in the U.S. and in SC. And I'm sure you are also aware that there is a rebel flag that flies at the SC State Capitol Building in spite of that racial history struggle. I ask you to take down that rebel flag and never fly it again to show compassion for the citizens that were killed in Wednesday night's massacre. I don't think this is asking to much: doing this will display a united SC, will show strength to the rest of the country and will be a sign of healing which we need after such a traumatic event.

Please take down the rebel flag: it is a symbol of white supremacy. Thank you. You have my deepest sympathies.

Sincerely,

Kristian J. [REDACTED]

crying at the press conference? really? Perhaps you need to reflect on your feelings and your role in a leadership position. Please explain your donations received from the NRA. I am boycotting your state and I will be contacting the CEOs of companies headquartered in SC as well. Along with the rest of the nation, I mourn the violent loss of life in the Charleston Church. In deference to those lost, and the many left behind to mourn, I urge you to remove the flag that still carries an image of the confederacy in it. To many, that image is a symbol of racial hatred, the very kind that spurred the shooter to carry out these horrifying acts. In the name of healing, love, peace and sympathy, I urge you to remove that flag permanently. Thank you.

Gov. Haley ~

I was genuinely moved by your heartfelt words Thursday morning. I say this as 67-year-old, white female Democrat who has not been your biggest fan. But my opinion of you changed because you allowed yourself to drop the veil, revealing raw human emotion.

Which is why I am writing you now - to appeal to that sense of decency I saw on Thursday and suggest you move heaven and earth to remove the Confederate flag from your capitol. Secessionists created it to be a silent declaration of disunity, and as such, it is still the very embodiment of 'us and them' thinking. Anyone who says that race wasn't an issue in the Civil War is disingenuous. Now, more than ever, is the time to bring the flag down - permanently.

Governor Haley,

I saw you on the news today, nearly in tears over the death of Sen. Pinckney and 8 others at the Emanuel AME church in Charleston. If those tears were authentic, please listen.

South Carolina needs a hate crime law. We need the Confederate flag, a signal of approval to racists, taken off the statehouse grounds. A beloved pastor and SC state senator has been killed by a racist, in a hate crime. It's time, Governor. Right now.

Family members in England and elsewhere in the U.S. called me today, after watching this tragedy on their news in horror and disgust -- news stories that featured that eyesore of a flag and mentioned our lack of special legal status for those who kill out of prejudice. It's an embarrassment. It makes me ashamed to live here. Please honor the memory of those who died while praying, just for being black, by finally doing the right thing.

Dear Governor Haley:

I am writing to express my absolute horror and disgust at your state's decision to fly the Confederate flag at full-mast today, following the massacre of nine unarmed Black worshippers at the Emanuel AME Church in Charleston by a racist, white supremacist gunman. The flag's presence at the state capital this morning, particularly at full-mast, is grossly disrespectful to the grieving Black community of Charleston and South Carolina more broadly...indeed, the entire United States.

Given the flag's origins as a symbol of slave-holding states, it shouldn't be flown at all. The fact that a handful of CEOs accept its presence does not diminish the pain, violence, and exploitation that the so-called "rebel flag" represents. Please show some respect for the countless lives lost to racist violence-- first through slavery, then through lynching, and most recently through gun violence-- and take that flag down permanently. Thank you.

Yours in sincere outrage,

Anna [REDACTED]

Gov. Haley and Staff: I am writing to you today from California, but I was raised in South Carolina and attended the University in Columbia and graduated 20 years ago. The overnight news of the Charleston Church Shooting is very troubling from afar, and affirms that the Palmetto State is still stuck in the past with respect to equality of race. Your response to the media earlier today, and I quote "we do know that we'll never understand what motivates anyone to enter one of our places of worship and take the life of another," does little to comfort my mind in how you plan to help heal South Carolina and transition from the past. Consoling the victims' families is an action that should be taken, but a greater one remains. Until you remove the Confederate Flag from the State House grounds in Columbia and place it in a museum, our state cannot properly heal and move forward. The Confederate Flag is a relic of a past era. It is a symbol of slavery and white supremacy. It cultivates a hostile environment where race must struggle both openly and tacitly. It's time to remove it. Now. You cannot change what's happened, but you can facilitate the Palmetto State's renewal by removing this symbol to help your constituents move forward. With respect, Josh [REDACTED]

It is really time to take down that flag which connotes racial bias. If it really did not, why is it such a revered symbol flown on pickup trucks in white rural communities of this state, where the term "Nigger" is commonly used, even right after church service. Attend a church picnic in Loris to hear it, and similar comments regarding our President of our United States and his ethnicity. We have enough racial bias in this state and country without that symbol of it. Show some courage.

Dear Governor Haley,

I live overseas, but with modern technology, I've been able to follow the story about the Charleston shooting last night. First, my condolences go to you and the people of South Carolina, especially those who lost friends and family. That such tragedies continue to take lives is both terribly sad and totally unsurprising.

I am writing to ask two things:

- 1) That you enact common-sense reforms on gun ownership. There is no reason that guns, like vehicles, can't be regulated in such a way that promotes more safety for us all.
- 2) That you remove the Confederate flag. Surely you can find symbols that communicate strength and individualism that do not also communicate support for racism. Whether or not that was the original symbolism of the flag, it has been used over and over again in history as the sign of white supremacy, and it's presence at the state house says that government either doesn't know, or doesn't care, neither of which are very becoming of a democracy that claims to care about ALL of its citizens.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter, and my thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time.

Governor, my heart breaks for the people of South Carolina today and especially for the church community hit by this senseless act of mass shooting.

If you want to make a meaningful response - for God's sake! - take down the Confederate flag hanging over your State House. It is the past symbol of a group of traitors who tried to tear apart this nation over the issue of slavery (yes, I know it's called "states' rights" down there; I used to live in Virginia) and is the current symbol of white supremacists. Even as you cry on national television, your flag is issuing a green light to racists.

Here is what your flag says to every sentient human being: "Come on over to South Carolina. We know how to deal with black people! Buy them, sell them, whip them, shoot them. We remember when the world was the way it was supposed to be!"

The United States is watching and grieving with you. Your tears are affecting, Governor, but if you want to make a difference, your first step is to lower the Confederate flag. Permanently.

It is clear your state still has a severe race problem based on the shooting at an AME church last night. It is long past time to take the confederate flag down from the statehouse.

I would have chosen my topic as racism, but it wasn't an option... so I chose guns, which is an equally big problem when your racist citizens are terrorizing innocent people in a house of worship.

Sincerely,
Victoria [REDACTED] MD MPH

The massacre in Charleston last night and the appropriate lowering of the US and SC flags in honor of those who were killed call our immediate attention to the Confederate flag that hangs so proudly over our State capital.

I have just learned today that it takes an act of the SC legislation to move, no less lower, the Confederate flag. Don't the racists of this State know that the Confederates lost the Civil War! Don't the racists of this State know the Civil War is over!

How far will this State go to continue to keep stepping on the Black citizens of South Carolina? This is how people, like this homicidal racist and others like him, are developed.

I watched your tearful remarks concerning yesterday's massacre. I wondered what change can we expect from you as a result of such a horrific event which is on the tail of a white policeman killing a Black in cold blood. I would suggest looking at the Confederate flag, a true symbol of racism, and its location atop the State Capital.

No one needs to tell you that the Confederate flag hanging over the Capitol of South Carolina is a horrible view to Blacks all over this nation. Do you care? As Governor of South Carolina, can you bring it down?

Please read the excellent article in The Atlantic called "Take Down The American Flag." I am the creator of Army Wives, a TV show shot in Charleston for 7 years. We are no longer a country that believes the "white man is superior to the Negro." We are one country, one American. We need leaders like you to say no more. It is time to put those old beliefs and their symbols behind us. It is time to heal. Please be a leader and lead us to a better way, a way of love and acceptance. Thank you.

I would like to join what I am sure are thousands of citizens in condemning you for allowing the Confederate flag to continue to fly over the South Carolina capital. It is most insensitive and hateful, especially in light of what has just happened at the church in Charleston. The Confederate flag is a symbol of hatred, bigotry and white supremacy. Additionally, it is a throw back to the hateful and cruel days of slavery. Be a leader. Stand up for uniting the people of your state and this country. Which brings me to gun control: Congratulations on being a state where a troubled and racist young man can get access to a gun with no training, license, background check or any other safeguards. You and the NRA and all of the legislators who continue to allow this to happen have the blood of the innocents on your hands.

<MSG>

I am writing as a citezen of these United States to request that the confederate flag be removed from all state buildings and properties. It is a symbol of oppression, slavery, hatred, and violence against African-Americans and all minorities. While the state's decision to fly this oppressive symbol did not directly cause the terrorist massacre in Charleston, it indeed gives legitimacy (intended or not) to the sick ideologies that drove this murderer and others who would carry out such crimes of hatred and violence. That the office of the governor would allow this flag to be displayed with pride is ethically and morally indefensible. Take it down. For the sake of decency and beginning the long road to healing what is a terrible and deep wound in this country, take it down. Deny its legitimacy and its power. Take it down.

Dear Governor Haley,

I ask you, I beg you, I implore you, as you are a Christian and a sworn servant of the United States, by your oath of office, take down the confederate flag from the grounds of the state house.

This flag has warm associations for a few, who connect it to summertimes and rural families. To far, far more people, it is the flag of treason and slavery. The constitution of the confederate South Carolina explicitly connected secession with defending slavery; this is a heritage that no one should defend.

There was once a time when Christians defended slavery but we have come to a complete and total consensus that no one should own another person. I beg you, take down this flag of slavery!

Yourr sister in Christ, praying for peace and reconciliation

The Rev. Dr. Alice [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley,

I write you today to express my deepest sympathies over the deadly event that took place at the American Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, SC last night. You and the people of your state are in my thoughts and prayers.

I'm sure you are aware of the history of racial struggle in the U.S. and in SC. And I'm sure you are also aware that there is a rebel flag that flies at the SC State Capitol Building in spite of that racial history struggle. I ask you to take down that rebel flag and never fly it again to show compassion for the citizens that were killed in Wednesday night's massacre. I don't think this is asking to much: doing this will display a united SC, will show strength to the rest of the country and will be a sign of healing which we need after such a traumatic event.

Please take down the rebel flag: it is a symbol of white supremacy. Thank you. You have my deepest sympathies.

Sincerely,

Kristian J. [REDACTED]

<MSG>

Governor, Haley:

My condolences to the citizens of South Carolina for the recent tragedy with the nine lives lost during the massacre in Charleston.

However, with the press conference that the President has made I need to feel that I need to state my position on this tragedy.

South Carolina has churches and places of worship under South Carolina Code Section 23-31-215 (M) for concealed firearm permit holders. Basically your State legislature created the venue where this type of tragedy could occur by taking away their right to self defense. Predators such as the perpetrator of this incident pick the easiest targets. A church being a prohibited under South Carolina law was a catalyst to this tragedy, He knew everyone was unarmed.

I will be traveling through your State next month to help my significant other move from upstate NY to Jacksonville, Florida. We will be fueling up in North Carolina who honors a significant portion of my licenses and permits to carry and driving through your State nonstop. Prior to entering your State I will be changing from my lawful concealed carry mode to the modes allowed for vehicle carry under South Carolina Code Section 16-23-20 or under the Federal Firearm Owners Protection Act also known as 18 USC § 926A.

We will be avoiding stopping in your State. Until South Carolina will honor my licenses and permits. I have a non-resident Florida concealed weapon and firearm permit, but it's not honored because I'm not a resident of Florida. Nevada also honors South Carolina concealed weapon permits but you won't honor my Nevada.

I'm a firearm and concealed weapons instructor since 2005. When South Carolina honors my right to carry, I will spend money in your State, until then, we're going to pass through via the least restrictive peaceable journey laws either by the your State or the United States.

Thank you for your time,

John C. [REDACTED]

Here's a sample message to send to your friends:

Hi,

Symbols of hate have no place in our government.

The Confederate flag is not a symbol of southern pride but rather a symbol of rebellion and racism. On the heels of the brutal killing of nine Black people in a South Carolina church by a racist terrorist, it's time to put that symbol of rebellion and racism behind us and move toward healing and a better United States of America!

That's why I signed a petition to The South Carolina State House, The South Carolina State Senate, and Governor Nikki Haley, which says:

"Symbols of hate and division have no place in our government. It's time to stand up for what's right and take down the Confederate Flag!"

Will you sign the petition too? Click here to add your name:

Madam Governor you are playing sandbox justice again. I call it sandbox because it is the tit for tat behaviour that children in a sand box use when they are offended.

Taking this man's life is as morally repugnant as the acts he committed. Definately, he must pay for this hate crime against people of color...(not against the church as the wayward souls of Fox News want to portray it), but to take his life is just pure evil. My faith is Grace based. However my understanding of God also includes judgment against those who stand in the face of Grace and spit on it. If you are wanting to spit in the face of divine Grace, count me out.

I am sickened by the racially motivated murder of innocent worshippers at Bible Study at the historic church in Charleston. While I believe that Governor Haley must be devastated by this horrific hate crime, I don't know how she can conceptualize it apart from the significance of her enabling of the Confederate flag to fly above the State's Capital. To validate this flag and its undeniable historic message by floating it above the Capital building certainly supports an environment that contributes to terrible and biased beliefs. That Governor Haley has defended the flag's presence by announcing that CEO's have not been deterred from business in South Carolina by its inclusion as a state symbol avoids and denies the existence of ongoing racism in her domain. Perhaps money and business are more important than the simple human rights of citizens in her state. I hope that Governor Haley's tears on national television express her remorse for deferring to business and political needs. I was planning my first visit to Charleston prior to this tragedy but I will not contribute to the state's economy until the Confederate flag is removed. Let the dollar convey the message that disgusted Americans have about the continuation of this sordid racial history.

It is an International and National disgrace for an actual state to be flying this flag. It is all about HATE, RACISM and SLAVERY. It is time for South Carolina to join the United States of America. Flying this flag in the face of a mass assasination in your historic Church is beyond belief. This 21 year old kid has been taught racism. You are NOT born with HATE. YOU LEARN IT. Every day you fly that flag is a disaster. Time for the South to speak the truth. I wonder how many members of the KKK are in YOUR ADMINISTRATION? Do the right thing. Take the flag down and then start a comprehensive anti hate education program. Teach the truth in schools about how South Carolina was completely wrong to be a member of the confederancy. A group of rogue states that promoted HATE. Time to grow up and start teaching love thy neighbor. You guys make me sick to be an American.

I urge the governor to permanently remove the confederate flag from the statehouse and all government buildings in South Carolina, first in honor of the nine African American South Carolinians who were recently murdered by a white man in their own church, and second to make a small step toward combating the racism that is still deeply rooted in this country. Leaving the flag up is an affront to human dignity and sends the message that racist acts of terror such as this are permissible.

My heart goes out to your state.

This church massacre is horrific.

I really believe that the "take back our country " message and that awful Confederate Flag still hanging in your state sent a message to that Terrorist that his plan was ok.

The Confederate Flag symbolizes slavery and all the crimes against humanity that took place in the south over 500 yrs. Unfortunately, I have seen you say those exact words on television yourself. I don't believe that you fully understood what you were saying. I don't think that you know what "state rights" really means.

Americans of African descent do.

It's time to take down that hateful flag.

I just heard on TV that the S.C. Flag & US flag are flying at half staff after the horrific shooting at the black church, but you have the Confederate flag up & flying at full height! As someone said, that speaks for itself. They showed a picture of it! If you were really so upset that you were in tears at your press conference, let your actions show it. The flag is so offensive to most of the US citizens & to leave it up & then to leave it at full staff is egregious! I am a white, Christian woman. I am not from your state, but I can't believe you would condone this! Do you believe that "all men are created equal" or not. I just couldn't believe what I was hearing & seeing. I have traveled around & been to many stores with racial slang on clothing, etc. about our President Obama. The way some whites treat him is so horrible. I can't believe you are sincerely upset about 9 US citizens who are black (African American) being gunned down in a hate crime when you allow this to go on in your state. Maybe if some of the people you know would quit putting bullseyes on people, maybe we could lessen the deaths of innocent Christians! Shame on all of you.

Since the shooting in Charleston was clearly motivated by racism, it is shameful to see the Confederate flag, the banner of racism, flying at full mast on the State House grounds. If the governor has no authority to lower it herself, she should take the initiative to ask the legislature to lower it.

Better yet, get rid of the Confederate flag (my great grandfather fought under it, so I feel a responsibility to ask for its removal).

Along with the rest of the nation, I mourn the violent loss of life in the Charleston Church. In deference to those lost, and the many left behind to mourn, I urge you to remove the flag that still carries an image of the confederacy in it. To many, that image is a symbol of racial hatred, the very kind that spurred the shooter to carry out these horrifying acts. In the name of healing, love, peace and sympathy, I urge you to remove that flag permanently. Thank you.

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.

I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley:

This morning on CNN I learned that while the American flag at the capital is lowered to half staff in memory of those killed in Charleston, the flag at the Confederate Memorial is still flying at full staff. As a southern born gentleman and former resident and former business owner who also served as the "Adopt A Highway" Coordinator for Greenville County in the beautiful state of South Carolina I am disappointed, embarrassed and too many other negative adjectives to list here, over this issue. The Confederate flag is an honorable representation of pride to folks, such as me, to all true and mature southerners. I would respectfully and emphatically request that the flag at the Confederate memorial located at the Capital building be lowered to half staff immediately in honor of those killed in the shooting in Charleston. Too much effort went into having that flag and memorial at the capital to allow the citizens of South Carolina to be embarrassed, on national media no less, by not lowering it as was done with the American flag that flies over the capital building. I kindly request that this issue be addressed post haste.

Respectfully,

T.Dwight [REDACTED]

Please do not use the Confederate flag as a symbol to honor yesterday's victims at the Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston

History equates this flag as a symbol embracing White Supremacy and Racism.

Considering that all account are pointing to this act as a hate crime, it seems detrimental and hateful to use the confederate flag in this way.

If you must use a symbol, use something that represents love and tolerance.

Thank you.

South Carolina:

I have something that you need to see. I saw where SCDEW were accepting public comments regarding the re-authorization of WIA. I attempted to send a public comment objecting to the re-authorization of WIA because of Barred From Applying and their inability to govern. I received an email stating emails from me to Ms. Stagers of SCDEW was blocked. I do not know or had any contact with Ms. Stagers so was puzzled as to what may be happening. See verification of blocked email response.

I can not understand how SCDEW could respond to me regarding submitted applications since my email account is blocked but it does explain why there has been no communications received from SCDEW in more than year pertaining to jobs applied for.

The great news about God Divinely Intervention is that it will expose the wicked and their lies. I composed a similar email from another email account regarding public comment to Ms. Stagers of SCDEW and it went through so that means liar deserves a proper response.

SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of South Carolina Governor did not make a serious attempt in removing Barred From Applying or to clear my name because denied access of my email account would not still be blocked as before.

To hear we are one people in South Carolina since the shooting in Charleston, SC is a nightmare knowing the hatred expressed to me.

Please send a response if any liars care to do so.

SCDEW:

The boards of WIA needs to be abolish because of their ineffectiveness to govern the policy and procedures of SCDEW due to unlawful employment tactics with Barred From Applying that was applied to me without justification. Am employee (Adrienne Sorensen) with SCDEW had applied Barred From Applying until December 30, 2018.

I only became aware of Barred From Applying due to inadvertently actions of Sharlanye Bellamy of SC Judicial System. SCDEW along with other agencies attempted to cover up Barred From Applying on many levels and therefore would object to the authorization of WIA Boards in South Carolina.

Today, more than ever, we need to consider the message that the Confederate Battle flag flying at the state house symbolizes. It is a heinous one. In light of the tragic shooting last night in Charleston, we must be more conscious than ever of the values represented in that flag. Enough with the "heritage" argument. That flag is offensive to a very wide swath of the state's population. It is an embarrassment to South Carolina. Time to take it down.

As a former resident of the beautiful state of South Carolina, I am saddened by the mass shooting last night. It was a hate crime and unforgivable. Also unforgivable is that the confederate flag still stands - at full mast! - on the grounds of the state capitol. Please take down this sign of racism and hatred.

It would mean so much if this were at least took into consideration. My name is Angel and I live in Central, SC. I am just a single widowed mother who works part time at Clemson University doing house keeping. This would be for myself. It is such a tragedy and so heartbreaking of this tragedy. Mainly, though, it is just unfathomable. I am extremely interested in psychology and all. I always have been. It has always been a dream of mine to even just barely get into the mind of someone like this who could even attempt such a horrible act to another human. It just hits so close to home. I would be willing to go through whatever steps necessary to do this. It would mean so much to me. I also seen where you are wanting to give death penalty. Even though this guy done such a horrible thing, I would love to attempt to witness to him. God is a forgiving, loving God regardless. I understand that he may not speak at all. He may be rude, say harsh offensive things or whatever and that is fine! Thank you for your time. I will continue trying to get in touch with someone to see if this is possible. Thank you !

You are another weak American leader unable to stand for what's right. Watching you speak of the shootings I thought you were sincere. Then I heard you dodge the question of what should be done about the flag that is a symbol of hatred and the past oppression of a people and I realized those tears were just a performance for the camera. Shame on you for not standing for right and for the lives of your black citizens killed because of someone who was driven by the symbolism of the confederate flag. Shame, shame, shame on you. Saw how upset the Governor is about today's shooting, Charleston.

We will see more of this because we are destroying the minds of our youth, planned by PsychoPolitics many years ago. When the Russian / East German wall came down, they knew America will be destroyed from the inside coming through the backdoor. I am an author writing many books on this subject of evil since 1992.

Now 3 books in a series available and soon 6 books going on 10. Evil is a big subject since first spiritual man. I have a website ItsAllAboutEvil.com, to preview.

Self-denial is the greatest disease and now they are delusionary...White House, Department of Justice, media, educators, particularly left wing Democrats and most of leaderships. Political correctness rules.

Corruption is now rampant and there are serious signs looming ahead by having our heads in the sand. If we do not expose the living hell and evil going on now in America, we will not recognize America soon.

Check my predictions and solutions to evil in my books. No one in leadership, media, education, finance, banks, government, medicine and more wishes to listen to the truth about evil now dominating mankind. There are barriers because evil collaborates with evil.

ItsAllAboutEvil.com books explain how, why and where, and how to destroy it. Obama has no clue to destroy Isis, or terrorism in our midst. I do.

We are doomed to fail and fall fast, if I cannot come to the surface. I am 78, and have seen it all.

I cannot save mankind...too late...but I can save millions.

I'm a proud Republican, a gun-owner, a Christian, and someone who is glad you are in office. I simply want to BEG you to forever take the confederate flag off of all government grounds and buildings. The church shooting is tacitly approved by such things as this....racism is alive and well...blacks are second class...a past of slavery is celebrated...it's sickening.

PLEASE, as a symbol to your black population, say "enough is enough", and that this symbol of plantation mentality will be eradicated forever from government endorsement!! Let the toothless bigots that want to fly it on their own property do-so, and thereby celebrate and proudly announce their failures in the gene pool of decency.

God bless and thank you,

Damon [REDACTED]

Haley's insistence on keeping the confederate flag flying is a vicious testament to the endorsement of white privilege and harem to African americans.

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.

I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

Your state continues to be an embarrassment to our country...as it has been for centuries. I understand that you even continue to fly the confederate flag over the state house. The confederate flag--the ultimate symbol of treason and slavery. Racism is alive and well in your little ugly corner of the south. And possibly you are too thick headed to understand the killer's motive, but the rest of us aren't. "I'm here to kill black people". May I recommend a year or two in an ESL class to improve your understanding of English.

Dear Governor Haley,

I appreciate your warm, heartfelt comments regarding the terrorist hate crime in Charleston. I truly believe your words are a step towards healing for the families and congregation of Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church. I have one concern. The Confederate flag still flies at your state's capitol. That flag has been an image used for hate against African American people for decades, and I'm certain you and your constituents are aware of this. At this time, the most sensitive and sensible thing to do would be to take that flag down permanently. This imagery is comparable to the Swastika. It reminds people of centuries of slavery and decades of oppression and inequality. Furthermore, it almost justifies hate. The state Government has a responsibility to eradicate hate and not perpetuate by proudly flying images that support dissension and racism. I hope you understand my concern. I understand that this is an issue that has to be addressed by the state legislature, but with your influence and power, I know you can make a difference in this matter. Thank you for taking time to read this, and I hope you will influence change in your state that may bring people closer to unity and solidarity.

Sincerely,

Gary [REDACTED], MD

Don't you feel in light of the recent shooting in Charleston that the Confederate flag needs to come down. It is a symbol of bigotry and merely conveys that the governing body of SC condones this type of senseless murder due to race. I feel no pride when I see that flag merely shame to be a white person in this state.

<SUBJECT>Please Respectfully Remove The Confederate Flag</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

To Whom It May Concern;

In light of the horrific shooting yesterday evening in Charleston, South Carolina, I politely request that you remove the Confederate flag from your state capitol grounds. Please pay respect to those that have been killed in this horrible hate crime. The Confederate flag remains to this day a symbol of hatred for so many people and causes great heartache. To show decency and respect to those that have been killed and those that remain, I request that you remove it.

Thank you for your time.

Best,

Edward [REDACTED]

<MSG>

In honor of those massacred in the racially motivated hate crime at Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, and in condemnation of those who would use cowardly violence to promote ongoing racial prejudice in our society, please remove the confederate flag from the South Carolina Capitol building. Because we should not publicly condone, honor or memorialize apartheid, slavery or any society which had racial oppression as it's foundation. It's time for a new chapter in South Carolina. This should have been done a long time ago. I appreciate your leadership in this matter.

 <MSG>

Good Morning

In the aftermath of the shooting in Charleston, flags across the State of South Carolina are lowered at flag staff. Clementa Pinckney was a Senator and Resident of Jasper County. My question is why is there no flag/flag pole at the Jasper County DMV to be lowered. This is a state office, employing state workers, is a Troop Office for Highway Patrol, but in front of the building is nothing. I have personally never paid attention to other DMV offices, however if there is not flags/flag poles at each office. I find this to be a problem that needs to be corrected.

Thanks

I have a mentally ill 11 year old son that I have been begging for people to help me with. He has mood disorder with psychosis, aspergers, anxiety disorder, intermitten explosive disorder, behavior conduct childhood onset which to say the least are very hefty diagnosis. His psychosis is often and he listens to the voices. He has threatened to blow up the neighbors house, and this year at school he stabbed a child in the leg with a compass he stole from the teacher. I even called your office and talked to a state ombudsman about getting him some long term placement so he can get the help he needs to have a productive life. Apparently the laws in this particular state is that until he hurts himself or someone else I cannot get him hospitalized. His meds don't work. I cant get his psych doctor at the mental health clinic to change them and I have mounds of paperwork to prove that 3 acute hospital stays in 8 months did not help among various other things. The Charleston shooting was more than likely due to a mental illness. The parents are criticized and the public wants his life including you. I didn't realize the death penalty was a mental health facility for this man to get the help he should of already gotten. According to the law in this state I have to wait for my son to snap and hurt others before I can get him any help with his mental illness. Isnt it a shame he might have to seriously injure or kill someone before people will see. When they see they will want his life and judge me for my parenting. You made the law this way so why are these children/young adults paying the ultimate price along with innocent victims when the law states in order to get long term placement for help they must hurt someone or themselves. is the public aware of the law you support. The law needs changed. My son might be the next kid you see on t.v. and then you have no one to blame but yourself. I thought your campaign was for children like this so where were you before hand? You need to be more proactive its easier than cleaning up a horrible mess and blame others for your shortcomings.

In light of the tragic killings in Charleston, which police were quick to deem a racially motivated hate crime, Americans all over the country plead with South Carolina to take down the Confederate flag by the statehouse, as this is rightly echoes as a symbol of racial hatred and divisiveness and may serve to fuel the deformed and bitter hatred that must have motivated Dylann Roof. In light of yesterday night's events, when terrible violence was perpetrated in a beacon of the struggle for civil rights, it seems clear that this symbol does much more harm than they good, idealizing, as the shooter likely did, a recent past when African Americans were disenfranchised of their rights. It is reprehensible and irresponsible of the state of South Carolina to continue to legitimize the Confederate flag that is known to symbolize and advocate for white supremacy and domestic terrorism against African American citizens.

According to the internet it is. If it is. It shouldn't be. Even flying that flag at half mast is an insult to the victims of the church shooting. But flying at full mast is a horrible insult.

I was so sorry to hear the news this morning regarding the horrible incident that took place at the Emanuel Methodist Church in your beautiful city of Charleston.

Your emotional statement was so heartfelt. You have a beautiful, historic city, strong love within the people that live in South Carolina and especially in Charleston.

The people in your state have such wonderful values, they will get through this, but am so proud of the way they are handling this.

I lived in NYC and went through 9/11. It was amazing to me how people became to care and love each other. I see that happening in Charleston. I also lived in Ct. during Newtown incident.

Our country needs to band together to make sure things like this don't happen again.

Gov. Haley and Staff: I am writing to you today from California, but I was raised in South Carolina and attended the University in Columbia and graduated 20 years ago. The overnight news of the Charleston Church Shooting is very troubling from afar, and affirms that the Palmetto State is still stuck in the past with respect to equality of race. Your response to the media earlier today, and I quote "we do know that we'll never understand what motivates anyone to enter one of our places of worship and take the life of another," does little to comfort my mind in how you plan to help heal South Carolina and transition from the past. Consoling the victims' families is an action that should be taken, but a greater one remains. Until you remove the Confederate Flag from the State House grounds in Columbia and place it in a museum, our state cannot properly heal and move forward. The Confederate Flag is a relic of a past era. It is a symbol of slavery and white supremacy. It cultivates a hostile environment where race must struggle both openly and tacitly. It's time to remove it. Now. You cannot change what's happened, but you can facilitate the Palmetto State's renewal by removing this symbol to help your constituents move forward. With respect, Josh [REDACTED]

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.
 I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

Dear Governor Haley,

As a resident of Charleston, SC, in the wake of the horrific murders at the Emmanuel AME Church this week, I strongly urge you to remove Confederate flag from the State Capitol grounds. While some may argue that this flag symbolizes "heritage" above all, this is simply not a valid reason to continue flying it above our state capitol.

Please consider this statement from Alexander Stephens in 1861, speaking about the foundation of the Confederacy: "Our new government is founded...upon the great truth that the negro is not equal to the white man; that slavery subordination to the superior race is his natural and normal condition. This, our new government, is the first, in the history of the world, based upon this great physical, philosophical, and moral truth."

I grew up in the South, and have chosen South Carolina as the place where I will settle and start my family. I cannot imagine raising my children in a place where the government--no matter how indirectly--supports the offensive "moral truth" as described above.

Again, I urge you to remove the Confederate Flag from the Capitol, so that our state and nation can move toward genuine equality and love, rather than continued division and hate.

Dear Governor Haley,

I am a citizen of the neighboring state of North Carolina and like so many, have been deeply impacted by the murders at Emanuel AME church. When a group of black people, gathered for Bible study, gets gunned down by a white man in one of the most historically prominent freedom-fighting black churches in the nation, you have chosen to instruct that the US and SC state flags at fly half-mast for 9 days. However, the flag of the Confederacy remains flying at high staff. Thus, my question... how is this possible? It is a shameful and extraordinarily disrespectful statement about the overwhelming privilege of those of us who are white.

One of the victims who was gunned down, honorably served your state, in that statehouse. You have made an unconscionable choice to allow the flag that represents our nation's history of the hate that killed him to fly at full staff.

I respectfully request that you think long and hard about the message you are sending in this choice. I also ask you to reconsider your decision to allow it to fly - at all - but at the very least, put it at half-mast during this time of mourning.

Sincerely,

Jayne [REDACTED]

Governor Haley,

I saw you on the news today, nearly in tears over the death of Sen. Pinckney and 8 others at the Emanuel AME church in Charleston. If those tears were authentic, please listen.

South Carolina needs a hate crime law. We need the Confederate flag, a signal of approval to racists, taken off the statehouse grounds. A beloved pastor and SC state senator has been killed by a racist, in a hate crime. It's time, Governor. Right now.

Family members in England and elsewhere in the U.S. called me today, after watching this tragedy on their news in horror and disgust -- news stories that featured that eyesore of a flag and mentioned our lack of special legal status for those who kill out of prejudice. It's an embarrassment. It makes me ashamed to live here. Please honor the memory of those who died while praying, just for being black, by finally doing the right thing.

I saw your performance after the tragedy at AME. Your phony concern and fake emotions are evidenced by your continued support for unregulated guns and the racist confederate flag you still salute. You are part of the problem and unless you find it in your concrete heart to amend those positions your fake tears and phony concern for others will be seen as the nothing more that then a perpetrator pointing fingers at others than at themselves.

As a U.S citizen I am utterly appalled at the lack of ethical intervenement after the massacre that occurred in your state. Dylan Roof embraced the Confederate flag and the ideologies of white supremacists. He violated the black community in an unspeakable way. By flying such a flag, you are continually reminding the African American residents of your state of the horrors their ancestors faced, and the challenges they continue to battle as a result. Therefore I urge you to take down the Confederate flag that flies above the Capitol building, as it is only appropriate and ethical after the act of terror that has occurred.

Gov. Haley,

I watched you choke up as you spoke about the tragic incident at the AME church in Charleston. I can only hope that emotion was sincere because if it was, you have an obligation to promote and to accomplish the banishment of the confederate flag on statehouse grounds. Disrespect, racism, insensitivity and more represents the message from this state that tonight flies the flag of racism and hate high instead of being at half staff showing respect and sorrow over this tragic incident. The message sent to the world is not what SC truly is nor what it hopes to represent itself as. It is not what I as a resident want my state message to be. The state suffers from an image problem without exasperating it with this embarrassment. End the hate!

Governor Haley:

The Civil War ended 150 years ago. That's been plenty of time for the sons, the grandsons, the great-grandsons, and great-great-grandsons of confederate (seditious, treasonous, and rebellious) military personnel and policymakers to see the contested symbol of their treason flying on what should be neutral, public lands.

Surely we can't deny our heritage as Southerners, but in light of the Emanuel AME Church Massacre, and in light of the systemic racism our black and brown brothers and sisters still face, is it not the ethically right thing to do to remove this symbol of hatred, treason, intimidation, and terrorism?

The South will always know its history. Historians will never let us forget the path this nation took. Americans will -- and unfortunately are now -- constantly reminded of our divisions and inequalities. One fewer totem of this divisiveness will go a long way for healing.

It's the right thing to do.

Sincerely,

Thomas J [REDACTED] PhD
W. Columbia, SC

It is clear your state still has a severe race problem based on the shooting at an AME church last night. It is long past time to take the confederate flag down from the statehouse.

I would have chosen my topic as racism, but it wasn't an option... so I chose guns, which is an equally big problem when your racist citizens are terrorizing innocent people in a house of worship.

Dear Governor Haley:

I am writing to express my absolute horror and disgust at your state's decision to fly the Confederate flag at full-mast today, following the massacre of nine unarmed Black worshippers at the Emanuel AME Church in Charleston by a racist, white supremacist gunman. The flag's presence at the state capital this morning, particularly at full-mast, is grossly disrespectful to the grieving Black community of Charleston and South Carolina more broadly...indeed, the entire United States.

Given the flag's origins as a symbol of slave-holding states, it shouldn't be flown at all. The fact that a handful of CEOs accept its presence does not diminish the pain, violence, and exploitation that the so-called "rebel flag" represents. Please show some respect for the countless lives lost to racist violence-- first through slavery, then through lynching, and most recently through gun violence-- and take that flag down permanently. Thank you.

Yours in sincere outrage,

Anna [REDACTED]

Dear Governor... I CANNOT believe that you have a confederate flag flying in the first place, but to have it flying on such a tragic day - incomprehensible. I CANNOT wrap my head around this.

This day is a shame on our entire nation, and the fact that you - of all people, after the press conference this morning - have a CONFEDERATE FLAG and all that it represents, flying at the state capital, is beyond any humanity and decency.

This day is shameful not only for the atrocity that occurred at Mother Emanuel AME, and the sick, unbalanced, racism that bred it, but now for the confederate flag.

TAKE IT DOWN. You are adding to our shame.

 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

All of us share your grief at the killing of nine Black People. Hate crimes like this are happening all too often and everyone has a responsibility to look into their hearts to find what we all must do to stop all of these senseless kills -- especially hate crimes. I never stop grieving when I hear of yet more senseless killings in our country.

One thing your state can do is to take down the confederate flag. The following article by Rachel Gross contains the sentiments of many Americans who are mourning:

If you're the governor of a state that suffers a tragedy, the common sign of respect is to fly all the state's flags at half-staff. It's what Connecticut Gov. Dannel Malloy did in 2013, after the Sandy Hook Elementary School massacre. It's what Colorado Gov. John Hickenlooper did in 2012 after the Aurora movie theater shooting. It's also what South Carolina Gov. Nikki Haley did today, after a white man in Charleston, South Carolina, allegedly shot and killed nine people at a historically black church in an act that is already being investigated by the FBI as a hate crime.

Lowering the flag is a widely recognized gesture, a way to honor the dead as the state and country mourn. In South Carolina, however, one flag is a potent symbol of racism-and a symbol claimed by the alleged gunman himself in the form of a decorative plate on his car. So why is the Confederate flag, which flies over the grounds of South Carolina's Capitol Complex, still waving in the breeze at its peak height?

To understand what seems like a shockingly callous move, first you have to understand what the battle flag is doing there at all. (After all, it's not South Carolina's state flag, the palmetto flag, which features a rather beautiful tree and crescent design.) The Confederate flag used to fly proudly atop the State House dome itself, ever since the state's then-all-white legislature voted that it be so in 1962 as a symbol of defiance against the Civil Rights movement. It would take nearly 40 years, a boycott by the NAACP that reportedly cost the state more than $7 billion, massive protests, and the condemnation of presidential nominee John McCain for the Legislature to reconsider flying such a flag on the building that represents their state government.

Finally, in 2000, the state passed a bill banning the Confederate flag from being flown over the State House dome as well as in the chambers of the Senate and House of Representatives. It was moved to the south side of the Confederate Soldier Monument, where it stands now. Along with the move came a new statute. "This flag must be flown on a flagpole located at a point on the south side of the Confederate Soldier Monument, centered on the monument, ten feet from the base of the monument at a height of thirty feet," it reads.

What that means is that in South Carolina, the Confederate flag abides by its own rules. While governors-as well as the president-can usually order that all state and national flags within their jurisdiction be flown at half-staff, this one is exempt. Instead, the Confederate flag's location can be changed only by a two-thirds vote by both branches of the General Assembly. "In South Carolina, the governor does not have legal authority to alter the flag," said a press secretary for Haley. "Only the General Assembly can do that." That is why, while other flags under the authority of the state have all been lowered in mourning, this one is still flying so audaciously. Even if Haley could order it lowered, it's not clear that she would; in the past, she's actually defended keeping the flag on state grounds, reassuring voters that it's done nothing to harm the state's image.

Since the General Assembly ended its 2015 legislative session on June 5, it's likely the Capitol's Confederate flag will continue to fly high, while the families of the shooter's nine black victims mourn the carnage of this hate crime.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. It would be a great first step.

Sincerely,

Pauline [REDACTED]

In the wake of the horrible massacre at the AME church, it is no longer possible to continue excusing the flying of the Confederate flag on the South Carolina state house. The flag is the symbol of the racial hatred that has long plagued South Carolina and other southern states and which expressed itself in the senseless hate crime at Emanuel Church.

Please help the citizens of your state in their healing. Please take the first step in ending racial hatred.
TAKE DOWN THAT HORRID FLAG!

Thank you,

Dear Governor,

I am so sorry about the horrific shooting at a place of worship in your State. I believe your tears were real and your heart is broken. I must say, however, your policies, the Republican party and their romance with the NRA and guns without impunity are the reason this sort of thing happens almost daily in our country. I am not a fearful person. I do not own a gun. The gun violence has to stop. The United States is too good for this. We should be a beacon of hope, not a vessel of violence. Take the lead and close the door on the NRA and the gun lobby.

In Deepest Sympathy,

It is really time to take down that flag which connotes racial bias. If it really did not, why is it such a revered symbol flown on pickup trucks in white rural communities of this state, where the term "Nigger" is commonly used, even right after church service. Attend a church picnic in Loris to hear it, and similar comments regarding our President of our United States and his ethnicity. We have enough racial bias in this state and country without that symbol of it. Show some courage.

Do you think your racist confederate flag adds to the white supremacists you lead and encourage? Tell me about your activities to protect voting rights? Please explain your donations received from the NRA. I am boycotting your state and I will be contacting the CEOs of companies headquartered in SC as well. Do you think flying the confederate flag at half mast will change anything? You have an opportunity to change or you can deny any problems. Your move Governor.

<SUBJECT>You are in a unique position to lecture upon the breakdown of the family!</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

PLEASE READ MY FACEBOOK POST AND CONTEMPLATE.

What is on my mind is the EVIL that everyone is physically capable of and how NATURE Vs. NURTURE might result in a human being actually committing EVIL ACTS as Dylann Storm Roof did?

Regarding Dylann's NATURE his middle school friend's mother tells me that "He was a really sweet kid. He was quiet. He only had a few friends". His high school friend tells me that "He was pretty smart. He had black friends. I never thought he'd do something like this." That tells me a lot.

Regarding Dylann's NURTURE I am informed that Dylann's mother lives with her boyfriend in Lexington (KY?) and his father lives in Columbia (I suspect SC as opposed to the country). It is unsure whether he finished high school. What was his life like from middle school to the age of 21? He spent the night in a car outside his middle school friend's home shortly before he ACTED OUT. I would like to know more about what this kid experienced growing up!

Regarding Dylann's ACTS, I suspect he was a coward, afraid, introverted, not fierce, else why choose a church bible study meeting instead of a block party in an inner city neighborhood? I suspect something in his NURTURE lead him to hate blacks and something in his NATURE lead him to go to a black church.

I presume to suggest that the political discussion should focus on the breakdown of the family, both Dylann's and more generally, the black community's. Evil acts breed evil acts, an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth! I believe that there are many studies that show that a child raised in an unbiblical (I say abnormal) family are much more likely to exhibit behavior that I think we would all regard as anti-social. Unfortunately our major politicians are clueless and prefer to blow the problem off by blaming guns or the devil! I blame the devil but where is the outrage at letting the devil get away with what it does? Why do we enable the devil?

This topic may be a little heavy for conversation at a Father's Day Cookout but I believe it is one that should be conducted, considered and our thoughts expressed to our pollutions!

That was on my mind!

 <SUBJECT>POTUS' comments on gneed for more gun control</SUBJECT>
 <MSG>

In the still churning aftermath of the terrible shootings in Charleston, President Obama bravely pounds his chest and asks for more gun control. It still hasn't dawned on this supposedly intelligent man that it is gun control that gave cause to this most recent massacre. Any logical person can tell you that the only thing that keeps a Gun Free Zone gun free, is the fact that at any given time on any given day, any given psychopath with a gun, chooses NOT TO ENTER the Gun Free Zone. To the armed psycho Gun Free Zones are nothing more than shooting galleries full of 'pop-up' targets. Advocacy for ending the ridiculous idea of Gun Free Zones would push President Obama out of our state's business. I feel that the City of Charleston and the Palmetto State can handle this case without any Federal "thunder thieves."

I believe your early call for the Death Penalty in this case is most correct.

However, this could be an opportunity for you to make the Palmetto State first in considering a more modern method of execution than the firing squad, electric chair or the chemical execution.

As the chemical method has become a rally point for the anti-death penalty advocacy groups, due to both the botched administrations, the opportunity for legal posturing, the difficulty in obtaining chemistry and the fact that the chemistry often takes a long time to cause complete death, this may be the right time to consider the use of an inert gas, like Nitrogen, as the method least likely to cause "cruel and unusual punishment." While immediately noticed by non-humans, its presence is undetectable to us, ergo-the person being executed would not be physically be aware of the process, and would simply lose consciousness and die.

"The very sparse amount of research on pre-21st century death penalty methods reveals the firing squad method is actually a pretty good way to go. A Utah inmate who in 1938 agreed to be gunned to death while hooked up to an electrocardiogram showed complete heart death within one minute of the firing squad's shots. By contrast, a typical, complication-free lethal injection takes about nine minutes to kill an inmate."--Margaret Sanger-Katz, in THE SLATE, 16 Jun 2010.

Nitrogen is the most sophisticated & preferred method of death by those committing suicides. It is odorless, tasteless, and simply presents a brief euphoria prior to the loss of consciousness, and brain death occurs within seconds of that organ being deprived of oxygen.

Yours in service,
K.J. [REDACTED]

Governor Haley :

Very heartfelt condolences to the people of Charleston and So. Carolina. I suspect you will dismiss this letter - but I sincerely hope that is not the case. Your performance on television did not ring true today. In fact, as a frequent tourist to your state, I hate to say that your seeming concern rang hollow. When will elected officials discern that guns ARE THE PROBLEM and carrying publicly is asking for trouble?? Why is the U.S. the only western nation where these tragic events occur?

It is because of politicians such as you that lack the courage to stand up to the NRA. Once again, the gun in question was purchased legally. What does this tell you ? Why must Americans have to live in fear when citizens are perfectly safe in other great western nations ? Again, this tragedy is brought to us by the NRA and politicians like you that are "bought and paid for." Many of us from other parts of the country had high hopes for a different type of leadership from you - but you have chosen to disappoint.

Sadly, my wife and I will no longer visit your state. It is hate filled. Imagine - the state actually issuing license plates celebrating the racism of the Confederacy !! Incredible. And, I understand that you fully support this racist agenda. I will guarantee that none of my family or friends will visit your state again.

It is a sad day. I will pray for you and your criminal lack of concern.

Governor, my heart breaks for the people of South Carolina today and especially for the church community hit by this senseless act of mass shooting.

If you want to make a meaningful response - for God's sake! - take down the Confederate flag hanging over your State House. It is the past symbol of a group of traitors who tried to tear apart this nation over the issue of slavery (yes, I know it's called "states' rights" down there; I used to live in Virginia) and is the current symbol of white supremacists. Even as you cry on national television, your flag is issuing a green light to racists.

Here is what your flag says to every sentient human being: "Come on over to South Carolina. We know how to deal with black people! Buy them, sell them, whip them, shoot them. We remember when the world was the way it was supposed to be!"

The United States is watching and grieving with you. Your tears are affecting, Governor, but if you want to make a difference, your first step is to lower the Confederate flag. Permanently.

South Carolina:

I am deeply hurt by the shooting in Charleston, SC because of the senseless act and on a personal note because of knowing Sharonda Coleman while attending SCSU. I considered Sharonda a friend and have visited Emanuel AME on a history tour of Charleston, SC Historic Sites. So as I grieve it is with a broken heart but the truth is never far from me. I pray for all of us that our truths, emotions and anger are not just for a moment. I am going to assumed that your truths, emotions and anger are temporary.

The only thing difference between possible Charleston, SC Shooter (roof) and SCDEW, SCBCB and Office Of Governor he used a gun. roof hated black people and SCDEW,SCBCB and Office of SC Governor hated me.

roof discriminated against black people so did SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of SC Governor.

roof had prior conversations of hate for black people in the midst of others and actions of SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of SC Governor probably had them too.

roof attempted to get away so did SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of SC Governor.

roof acted on his hatred so did SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of SC Governor with Barred From Applying.

roof silence the life of nine and SCDEW, SCBCB and Office of SC Governor sought the same with Barred From Applying with the inability to earn an income therefore eventually would not be able to eat.

Speeches sound great, tears may be sincere, cracking in your voice, anger may be present and promise to do a greater good but none attach to this email has publicly acknowledge Barred from Applying, acknowledge a crime, hold people accountable and the most important has not made an attempt to rectify a wrong.

To be a better neighbor create a better world start with me,

 <SUBJECT>CTITICAL INCIDENT MANAGEMENT</SUBJECT>
 <MSG>

Good afternoon ma'am (Governor) - as the birthplace of my daughter, the State of South Carolina at Beaufort Naval Hospital and as a graduate of USC, Beaufort, SC is close to my heart while we reside in the Dallas, Texas. Recently my volunteer work has taken me into the prevention realm of helping others and cities. After the Church Shooting last night, I wrote an article and appeared on networks discussing the phenomenon of the Active Shooter. Obviously this is not a gun problem, some people just want to burn the world down which brings me to my email request. We are woking on a civil unrest plan from intelligence gathered for across the country in the coming summer months. It would be my honor to work with your office (as I am sure you have the best and brightest) to work on a mitigation and risk plan. That is my profession known as the #activeshooterexpert as I have been involved in two domestically and have a post graduate degree on the topic. These are sound procedures with proved records of success and the level of respect I have for my home state drives me to write this offer/request. For more info: www.[REDACTED].com [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley,

I live overseas, but with modern technology, I've been able to follow the story about the Charleston shooting last night. First, my condolences go to you and the people of South Carolina, especially those who lost friends and family. That such tragedies continue to take lives is both terribly sad and totally unsurprising.

I am writing to ask two things:

- 1) That you enact common-sense reforms on gun ownership. There is no reason that guns, like vehicles, can't be regulated in such a way that promotes more safety for us all.
- 2) That you remove the Confederate flag. Surely you can find symbols that communicate strength and individualism that do not also communicate support for racism. Whether or not that was the original symbolism of the flag, it has been used over and over again in history as the sign of white supremacy, and it's presence at the state house says that government either doesn't know, or doesn't care, neither of which are very becoming of a democracy that claims to care about ALL of its citizens.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter, and my thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time.

In the wake of the Charleston shooting, we as a state must confront the hard truths about ourselves. Flying the confederate flag on the Statehouse grounds is an implicit and tacit approval of what that flag represents, racial oppression. Please do the right thing and take down the flag. If you really thing that it is a heritage/history marker, then put it in a museum explaining its origins, etc. It should not be flying.

Please have the Confederate flag at your state capitol building lowered to half-staff-- or removed. Flying it at full-staff-- and indeed flying it at all-- sends an implicit message of approval to white supremacist murderers like the young man who assassinated Pastor Pinckney and the eight other people a little over twenty-four hours ago. Please. Our nation needs to disavow the symbols of slavery and segregation that still function to create division, hatred, and violence of the kind that people like Dylann Storm Roof embody.

Good evening,

My name is Angie [REDACTED] I am 17 years old, and I'll be starting my senior year at [REDACTED] High School this coming September. I would like to voice my concern about a certain topic. I'm sure you are well aware of the Charleston Shooting that happened not too long ago. It is a terrible hate crime, and I believe that the country needs to hear from you about this topic. They need to hear that you acknowledge it is a hate crime, and that these kinds of things need to end. They need to know that there is no way to sugar coat what he did. He murdered those people in cold blood. Being a person of minority I believe that will help people, especially the media, realize that racism is still alive today. At my school I am a co-president of the Multicultural group at my school and I work hard to get my fellow classmates to understand different perspectives in hopes that it will open their minds. Again, I would appreciate it if you could hold a press conference, or even just call a news station and give them a quote about the unrelenting racial hate crimes & unfair treatment minority groups are continuing to face. Our people, your people, need to know you stand against it. Thank you for taking the time to read over this email.

Two words, fucking idiot. Scumbag, your picture needs a confederate flag.

South Carolina Governor Gets Called Out For Cowardly Confederate Flag Defense
One viral Facebook comment perfectly summed up the outrage many are feeling.
By Zaid Jilani / AlterNet
June 19, 2015

Following the tragic mass killing in Charleston, one figure many have turned to for leadership is the state's Republican governor, Nikki Haley. She has not provided that leadership.

Her initial comment on the shooting eluded the racism explanation altogether, leading one of her constituents to condemn her remarks in a Facebook post that went viral:

This morning, Haley appeared on CBS Morning News and was asked if it is finally time for the state to stop adorning government buildings with the Confederate Flag. Haley dodged the question, refusing to give her personal opinion, and seemed to imply that a debate over the flag would be too traumatizing for her state:

HOST: There are also calls today that you have to take the Confederate flag down from the state capitol. How do you address those calls?

HALEY: I think that...at a time like this, you have to look back at what we've done. Fifteen years ago the General Assembly at the time they had a conversation. The Republicans and Democrats and everybody came together on a consensus to bring the Confederate flag down off of the dome. And they put it on a monument out in front. I think that conversation will probably come back up again. And you what we hope that we do things the way South Carolinians do. Which is have the conversation, allow some thoughtful words to be exchanged, be kind about it. Come together on what we're trying to achieve and how we're trying to do it. I think the state will start talking about that again. We'll see where it goes. What I will tell you right now, is while a lot of issues will come up, my job as governor is to bring everybody back together again. [...]

HOST: But what's your position on the issue?

HALEY: You know, right now, to start having policy conversations with the people of South Carolina, I understand that's what ya'll want, my job is to heal the people of this state. We had a 26 year-old that just graduated college. We had anywhere from a 26 year-old to an 87 year-old grandmother. You had a track coach. You had a librarian. This is very real to us. [...] There will be policy discussions and you will hear my come out and talk about it. But right now, I'm not doing that to the people of my state.

Haley did however appear to be willing to make one policy decision – calling on the suspect charged in the shooting to be executed.

The governor's lack of leadership is in stark contrast to one state west – Georgia. There, Governor Zell Miller (D) in 1992 called for changing the Georgia flag so it no longer reflected the Confederate symbol. “The Georgia flag is a last remaining vestige of days that are not only gone but also days that we have no right to be proud of,” he said at the time. “We need to lay the days of segregation to rest, to let bygones be bygones and rest our souls. We need to do what is right.” Although the flag was not changed until 2001, Miller's call 23 years ago shows that a governor even in a deep southern state can lead on the issue if they choose to.

Haley's avoidance of the issue of racism altogether eludes the elephant in the room. Compare her words to those of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., who spoke after the 1963 Birmingham church bombing:

And yet they died nobly. They are the martyred heroines of a holy crusade for freedom and human dignity. And so this afternoon in a real sense they have something to say to each of us in their death. They have something to say to every minister of the gospel who has remained silent behind the safe security of stained-glass windows. They have something to say to every politician [Audience:] (Yeah) who has fed his constituents with the stale bread of hatred and the spoiled meat of racism. They have something to say to a federal government that has compromised with the undemocratic practices of southern Dixiecrats (Yeah) and the blatant hypocrisy of right-wing northern Republicans. (Speak) They have something to say to every Negro (Yeah) who has passively accepted the evil system of segregation and who has stood on the sidelines in a mighty struggle for justice. They say to each of us, black and white alike, that we must substitute courage for caution. They say to us that we must be concerned not merely about who murdered them, but about the system, the way of life, the philosophy which produced the murderers. Their death says to us that we must work passionately and unrelentingly for the realization of the American dream.

What Haley does not seem to be conceding is that to heal, you must first admit to your problem. Failing to address the legacy of racism in South Carolina will only conceal a wound, not ameliorate it.

I was just informed by a friend, in Seattle, Washington, that the American and South Carolina flags at the SC State House are flying at half staff in respect for the victims of the AME church shooting. However the Confederate flag is flying at full staff in all it's glory.

To me this is a slap in the face to the victims of the shooting as well as to all citizens of South Carolina.

I would appreciate you addressing this. If not in public, I would like to discuss with you one on one.

The Governor needs to speak more strongly and directly against the pervasive racism that exists in South Carolina. To say businesses have not raised concerns about the Confederate Flag dismisses ALL THE MANY CITIZENS who have. It is divisive and needs to be removed NOW as a show of respect. I understand new legislation is being introduced to undo the compromise passed in 2000. She needs to support it. Also, action needs to be taken in passing a law against hate crimes in our state. Lastly, some additional safeguards regarding guns such as restrictions in carrying concealed weapons is needed. What a black eye for SC! Show some courage for God's sake!

Dear Governor,

First my condolences for the mass shooting that happened. It is a terrible tragedy. I'm not writing to you about gun control but about racial tension. I understand you requested the American flag be flown at half staff, but seriously how can you walk into work every day knowing the Confederate flag is flying high over the building? Taking this down may be a step in the right direction towards easing racial tension in your state.

Regards,

Sarah [REDACTED]

Guns are always a problem but I am ashamed that we still fly the Confederate flag in Columbia. That is the elephant in the room for us. Other states mock us for this and now we have blood on our hands with this latest shooting. Thanks for your time.

I watched in dismay as you fought back tears in addressing the recent church shooting in your state. What have YOU done to control guns in your state? Shame on all you in positions of power who do nothing to protect lives of Americans. How much data do you need to see to realize Americans are NOT safer because of the weapons we own. Shame on you for your ignorance and giving into the NRA. You fight to protect unborn fetuses and control women's rights to freedom to control their own bodies, but you do nothing to promote protecting the citizens of your state. Stop with the charade of horror and surprise - as long as Americans have such easy access to guns, we will continue to kill each other.

Dear Governor Haley,

In the recent terrorist attacks which occurred at the AME Church in downtown Charleston...I hope the flag being lowered include the confederate flag. To be honest, if you really are sincere with your comments(which I believe you were) in the press, the flag really should come down.

The confederate flag symbol represents divisiveness among all African American people...this would be a 1st step.

In addition, passing laws allowing guns to come in the a house of Worship, got us to this.

While my heart goes out to the family of those so savagely murdered...it goes out for Dylann Roof and his family as well. I pray that he asks God to forgive him and can start healing.

This will continue to happen unless as the President stated, we start a dialogue to discuss the racism that still exist in America.

I hope you will consider as least lowered the confederate flag also.

Regards & God Bless,

Arline

I am a senior citizen originally from New York City, now living in Florida and I am so so very sad to learn of the horrific cruelty of a lone "young mad man." I am a product of the 60's and I really had hoped that by now all prejudice would be erased and replaced by understanding, fellowship and love. I am ashamed of "my" race and the people who continue to teach their young to hate other people for no other reason than the color of their skin, their religious beliefs or sexual orientation. I want to express my deepest sympathy to all those wonderful families who have lost their loved one to a senseless act of stupidity, cruelty and insanity.

The citizens of Charleston are amazing in how they have addressed this horrific act. Their love and incredible resolve not to react in a negative way speaks volumes of how superior they are to the man who chose to end decent the lives of decent people. I shall continue to keep all of you in my prayers and hope that you know that I share in your grief. Sincerely, Kathy [REDACTED]

Dear Governor - so the US flag is flying at half staff and the your State flag is flying at half staff, but the confederate flag is still flying high and mighty at your government building. You just don't get it. This is not about freedom of expression -- it's about deep-seated hate and living in the past. The South lost the war. Whether you like it or not, you are part of the UNITED STATES of America. As long as it's acceptable to South Carolinians to fly the confederate flag, this symbol of hate will continue as will the ugliness and destruction we saw yesterday. You have every opportunity to make a change for the better by taking down the confederate flag and burning it.

In light of the Charleston shooting it is time to stop pretending that the Confederate flag (as adapted by the state of Georgia) is anything other than a symbol of racist terrorism. How would we feel about the ISIS flag over an American state capital the day after a beheading?

For the record, I am "white," born in Alabama and the gravestones of my ancestors say CSA on them. We can talk about "southern heritage," but enough is enough. That flag is permanently stained with shame. Be willing to be a leader.

<MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

I would like to extend my deepest sympathy to the families who lost loved ones in the Charleston shooting. We all grieve with you in such a terrible loss. But I hope now you will respectfully reconsider removing the confederate flag from your state house. The confederate flag is a symbol of terrorism and brutality toward African Americans and engenders hate crimes in some people. When young adults like the shooter are reared in a community environment which supports symbols of terrorism, and brutality toward a group, then if positive changes are not made to remove those symbols of hate from official buildings, you share in the responsibility of this horrific act. The young age of the shooter stands out. He is a product of the schools and social/ cultural environment that shaped him. Although he is responsible for the act of shooting the gun, the larger community is also responsible for setting an environment that supports racist symbols that historically stood for white supremacy, abuse, brutality and terrorism of African Americans. As a mother, grandmother, and concerned citizen, I feel obligated to share this information with you for I feel you are a good person and you may not be aware of the potential consequences of public supported offensive racist symbols. I write this letter in hope that the loss of those nine lives, will not be in vain. Although you cannot change everything toward good, you can take a courageous act that says government buildings will not display hateful symbols and that you can advocate for taking down the confederate flag from your state building. Thank you for considering my concerns. This is the first time I have written to a Governor. I felt obligated to take a positive action due to the magnitude of the loss to the entire country. Together we can do better.

Sincerely,

Karen [REDACTED]

My heart goes out to the victims and the family members of the AME shooting in Charleston. It was a sad day for SC and for the nation. No punishment can be too great for the shooter who can only be characterized as evil. An inanimate object did not however cause this evil tragedy. The sick and twisted mind of a mentally ill person is what caused the death of these nine churchgoers.

It sickens me for President Obama to use this evil act to further push his anti-self defense policy. This evil was made possible because none of these people were allowed to protect themselves in their house of worship by the state of SC of which you are the Governor.

I am afraid to go to my house of worship because it is fast becoming the most statistically likely place me or my family may be attacked and shot. Why does SC not allow me my 2nd Amendment rights simply because I am in church? The 2nd Amendment does not read that I may keep and bear arms everywhere except for my church and my right to self-defense should not be taken from me as I walk through the doors of a church.

I wrote to you back when the Sikh temple was attacked and now it has happened again. I can 100% guarantee that lives would have been saved had someone in that church been armed other than the shooter. When will I be allowed to go to church free from fear of being shot without any means of protection? When will SC allow self-defense in churches?

Gun free zones never work and in fact encourage violence. When will you repeal the section of law saying I may not protect my family in our house of worship? Now is the time to do the right thing for all law abiding citizens of SC please.

My prayers go out to the survivors of the shooting/ I am a survivor of gun violence I became a survivor two years after my husband was shot and killed while working at a service n Montgomery, Al.My heart was heavy with the feeling of hate for the man that shot my husband /1 day I was outside and I lifted my face up to the heavens and asked God to take the pain and show me forgiveness that was in 1972 after that moment I felt the pain lifted after that people would ask me what happened to the man " ask God I gave it to him"

This was not a racial act this was the devil I don't think the color of a persons skin makes them I have been so upset with all the shootings that have occurred lately America as a nation have to realize that We Are a united nation not black or white. We pray together and we stand together

I do believe that there are angry people in this nation that do terrible things. However at the moments of the gun being fired that person does not feel hatred and it is that person I don't think we can heal from this until we accept the fact that it is not race it is not gun controls it is 1 person doing the shooting

Dear Governor Haley,

I was devastated to learn of last night's events in Charleston, as I know you were, too. I saw that you wrote that you can't comprehend what could motivate an attack like this (or something to that effect). To me, it is not difficult to imagine what motivated this tragedy - racism. There are 19 known hate groups operating freely within South Carolina, as is their right to do, but I wish that our state was not such a hospitable site for bigots.

History tells us that South Carolina, and Charleston in particular, has long been a center of racial tensions. In recent months, with the shooting of Michael Brown, these tensions have only grown. While the Confederate flag represents an important period in South Carolina's history and struggle for states' rights in the Civil War, it only gained public popularity in the 20th century as a symbol of the segregationist movement, which opposed civil rights. The historical importance of the site of the shooting, where Denmark Vesey led a slave revolt, must not be overlooked, either. We cannot divorce this shooting from the deeply rooted cultural and historical context in which it occurred. Why are we still flying the confederate flag? To me, this is no different from Germans flying the Nazi flag because of "history," which they certainly would not do.

Last week, there was controversy over the Confederate flag being depicted on the cover of the Charleston City Paper, and today, that flag still flies on the State House grounds in Columbia, even as the United States and South Carolina flags fly at half mast, in honor of this devastating tragedy. I urge you, as a born and raised South Carolinian, to please make the decision to finally remove the Confederate flag from the state house grounds. We need to send the message to the rest of the country that SC will not stand for racial violence and that we are not okay with what occurred last night.

I recall your comments from 2014 about having talked with many CEOs who never mentioned having a problem with the Confederate flag, and I wonder if any CEOs have contacted you since to disagree. I graduated from College of Charleston in 2013, where I was a recipient of the Palmetto Fellows Scholarship and the CofC Presidential Scholarship for all four years, with a degree in Computer Science. I now live in San Francisco and work in its booming tech industry, and I look forward to the day that I will speak with you as a CEO. South Carolina has been good to me, by providing me with a free education. I would like to be able to return the favor via tax dollars, but I cannot live in a state that still defends such a hateful symbol of white supremacy. Many of my most brilliant friends and classmates have also left and given up on the state because of its antiquated and bigoted culture. If the moral argument to end racial violence and intolerance is not compelling enough, please consider the practical financial argument - racism is costing SC money, period. Please take a stand and take down the flag, once and for all.

Thank you,
Joanna [REDACTED]

<SUBJECT>Respect for the Emanuel AME Church Victims</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

Dear Governor Haley:

One of the photos posted of the alleged shooter of the parishioners at Emanuel AME Church shows him standing in front of his car, which has license plates with the Confederate flag on it. Given his actions, and the other symbols he's worn and stood in front of in photographs endorsing white supremacy, I think this is one reason why people find it hard to accept that the same flag is flying full force in front of the South Carolina capitol building, when the US and South Carolina flag are flying at half mast to honor the victims. Please do whatever you can to remove the flag. It is an insult to Emanuel AME, its slain pastor and state senator, the victims and their families, and, frankly, the citizens of South Carolina to have it still flying.

Best wishes

Erica [REDACTED]

Please see that this gets directly to the governor if at all possible:

Governor Haley:

I'd like to begin by saying thank you for the excellent job that you do as Governor for our great state of South Carolina. In the wake of the church shooting in Charleston I am writing this in hopes that you will push for a change to the current laws for concealed weapons permit holders in South Carolina. The law currently doesn't allow for CWP holders to carry inside of a church or church owned property without express permission. I feel that this should be changed to allow CWP holders to carry in churches without express permission. It is my opinion that if someone had been carrying their firearm in that church that MAYBE the situation could've been prevented or some lives could've MAYBE been saved. I do however understand that this is only a possibility but I can't help but think that the outcome could have been different if there were legally armed citizens in the church.

Thank you for your time and attention,

Adam [REDACTED]
