Ken Kirkley I agree with Stephanie Rosera. Would love if there were some pet friendly cabins.

Becky Jo I was just going to post that too. At least some of the units should be pet friendly. They look pretty indestructible, but most pets these days are well acquainted with being in homes, hotels and new places. They are used to traveling. I wanted to bring my lab to Table Rock but had to stay in a hotel 30 minutes away. Please consider pet friendly cabins?

Barclay Clarke Everyone always mentions pet friendly cabins when something like this posts. I love my dogs very much, but, that being said, everyone has to understand that allowing pets in cabins brings fleas, pet dander, other smells and such, that, if the next occupant were allergic, would be a big problem! And before anyone responds with "but MY pet is perfect," remember that not everyone is as conscientious of a pet owner as you are! I hope that pet people will still take advantage of staying at state parks without their animal. If you don't, you are missing out on a lot of beauty and nature and education that SC state parks have to offer!!
