Lieutenant Governor:

You are prohibited from using funds from one official position to pay for the expenses of another official position. In other words, you are prohibited from using funds from your Senate campaign account to pay for the expenses of your Lieutenant Governor position. You would need to use funds from your Lieutenant Governor campaign account to pay for expenses related to your Lieutenant Governor position. I do not know if you were able to resolve whether you were going to create a Lieutenant Governor campaign account. This issue might be a good reason why you need such an account. You can transfer the contributions from your Senate campaign account to your Lieutenant Governor campaign account, if you have written permission to do so from the contributors. You could then use those funds to pay for expenses related to your Lieutenant Governor position. If you have any other questions, please feel free to contact me.

JJ, I hope you find this email doing good.

I've been asked to speak at several republican party conventions around the state. There are several in one day and the only way I can get to all of them is to have a chartered flight.

Can I use my Senate campaign account to pay for this?
