Statement From Governor Nikki Haley On Passage Of 2014 Water Resources Reform And Development Act

COLUMBIA, S.C. – Governor Nikki Haley today issued the following statement in response to the passage of the 2014 Water Resources Reform and Development Act:

“This is more good news. Beginning the day we took office, we fought alongside our federal delegation to strengthen and deepen our ports. We won't stop fighting because when our port system thrives, our economy thrives, and it gives everyone across our state another reason to celebrate.”
