

LET 'EM
SPAWN

LET 'EM
LIVE

Unusually cold weather this winter has killed spotted seatrout across the coast of South Carolina. As a precautionary measure to help protect surviving seatrout, the SCDNR is urging anglers to practice catch and release of all spotted seatrout through the end of September. Your help will give these fish a better shot at recovering from this winter event!

www.dnr.sc.gov