I'm fine with however they want to do that as long as they make it clear who it's coming from.

I'm sorry for just now forwarding. I'm driving. I was under the impression that this statement was going to be attributable to Secretary Hall. The release is confusing, but they've clarified with me that it is attributable to Pete.

This isn't a sticking point, but to me this seems to rise to the level of a statement from an agency head.
