Description/Significant Features:

This resource is approximately 182 meters east/west by 60 meters north/south in size and consists of the heavily overgrown and dilapidated remains of an early to mid-twentieth century farmstead. The house is no longer standing but the barn (1994.01), two outbuildings (1994.02 and 1994.03), and a well (1994.04) are recorded as sub-numbers for the resource. The site contains a debris pile of pieces of metal roof sheeting and probably represents a former structure. The boundary for this resource is based on the physical remains located at the site and the 1966 aerial photograph that showed the layout of the buildings.
