Leadership Alert - Governor-Elect Transition Team

This week Leadership Directories is busy updating our database with vital contact information for incoming governors (and their transition teams) across the nation. The new year will see heavy turnover in state capitols: people get promoted, retire, switch offices, or leave for a job in the private sector. Every day we're seeing new emails, titles, phone numbers, and addresses for officials and administrators.

Would you like to receive our updates about changes in state governments, particularly related to new governors and new appointments? Sign up today!
