South Carolina State Parks

at 12:49:36 on 3/26/2018 UTC · 🌐

Not Alaska.....but these are whale sightings from the Myrtle Beach State Park pier! Yesterday, park rangers watched two humpback 🐳 breaching and slapping their pectorals and flukes for over 1.5 hours. They observed over 100 breaches! Enjoy these 📷 by Scott Hartley.

Hettie Painter Robinson WOW!!! In all these many years, I have never seen a whale off the coast of Myrtle Beach. And we spent numbers of Easters there in March and April. How exciting for those who were fortunate to see this. Thanks for posting.
