TALKING POINTS :

Opening:

- Today is another great day in South Carolina, because it's a day of action.
- Last year, when I established the Domestic Violence Task Force, I never wanted it just to be about recommendations – it had to be about results.

Review how we got here:

- Let's think back to last year and how we started this. We began by surveying sheriffs' departments and law enforcement agencies to figure out what was being done right and what could be done better.
- From that data, we worked closely with the Sheriffs' Association to create solutions that were tailor-made to South Carolina.
- We found that:
  - More than 17% of agencies were not required to file an Incident Report on every DV call.
  - Approximately 23% of agencies did not have a policy requiring supervisory review of DV incidents.
  - Almost 30% of agencies do not have a specific policy in place for addressing domestic violence.
  - 50% of agencies do not use specific protocols or checklists when responding to DV calls.
- Because domestic violence is a crime that escalates over time, establishing a pattern of aggression is key, and oftentimes that begins with law enforcement.
- All of these things are important to ensure that incidents are properly documented – when a victim calls 911 and reaches out for help, it's our job to make sure she or he does not fall through the cracks.

Introduce the Year One Initiative:

- Year One of the Toolkit will bring all of our counties – big, small, urban, and rural – up to the same level by asking our Sheriffs to do two things: (1) Adopt an Internal Policy for Domestic Violence; and (2) Conduct a Needs Assessment for Domestic Violence.
- (1) The Internal Policy will ensure that all of our Sheriffs' Deputies are responding to domestic violence incidents in the same way:
  - Requiring officers to file an Incident Report on every DV call;
  - Mandating supervisory review for all DV Incident Reports;
  - Designating an individual to get copies of Orders of Protection from Family Court;
  - Requiring officers to conduct a Wanted Check at the scene of every DV call;
  - Providing officers with a one page, front and back, laminated Reference Guide.
- The Internal Policy will have much more to it, but these were the five must-have standards to - lay a foundation to build upon year after year.

- (2) The Needs Assessment will mean that every Sheriff is essentially forming a business plan for domestic violence, which will identify immediate, short-term (3-5 years), and long-term needs (5-10 years), including:
  - Number and type of positions dedicated to DV;
  - Amounts and sources of funding dedicated to DV;
  - Brief descriptions of other programs or partnerships for DV;
  - Short evaluation of the agency's capacity to operate grants.
- We will not be able to set an initiative for Year Two or Year Three without knowing what resources are out there and how we can lift each county up according to its specific needs.
- Every Sheriff will write its own Internal Policy and will conduct its own Needs Assessment – there is flexibility built right into this Initiative.
- I have never been the type to want to mandate down, but I want to bring everyone up in the way that fulfills local needs towards a statewide objective.

Explain what this means for South Carolina:

- What does this mean for Sheriffs?
  - It means that by December 31st of this year, all 46 counties will have implemented a policy specifically for domestic violence, and they will have a business-style plan in place for how to take their agency to the next level.
- What does this mean for officers?
  - It means that they'll be better prepared to take a domestic violence call and better able to help victims and save lives.
- What does this mean for victims?
  - It means that the Sheriffs of South Carolina are going to have your back like they've never had before, going the extra mile to make domestic violence a priority.
- What does this mean for South Carolinians?
  - It means that your Sheriffs are responding to your needs. We all know someone who has struggled with this, and we cannot ignore the violence in our homes that is hurting our families. To be a strong state, we must have strong families.

Introduce the next Speakers:

- I want to introduce two Sheriffs who will be saying a few words on behalf of their colleagues: Sheriff Jay Koon from Lexington and Sheriff Leroy Ravenell from Orangeburg.
- Then, Director Leroy Smith will speak on behalf of the Task Force.

Closing:

- I have to thank the man who got this across the finish line and did true servant's work in turning the recommendations into reality: Jarrod Bruder, Executive Director of the Sheriff's Association.
- I also have to thank the Task Force members, specifically Director Bryan Stirling, Director Leroy Smith, and Brian Bennett with the Criminal Justice Academy, who got this effort up and running more than a year ago.
- Law enforcement officers play a key role in the life of a victim, and I am so proud that we have 45 Sheriffs who are willing to pledge their name and put their reputation on the line to stand up for victims.

- With the leadership of Sheriffs, like these, we are going to save lives.

LEGISLATIVE NOTE:

Officer-Involved Shooting Bill:

S.0650—Senator John Scott—Officer-involved shooting (4.14.2015)

- Establishes SLED as the exclusive investigating agency of all officer-involved shootings and arrestee custody related deaths.
- If a SLED agent was involved in the shooting, generally the sheriff in the county where the shooting took place would conduct the investigation and all forensics would be analyzed outside of SC.
- The initiation or declination of any formal criminal action must not occur prior to the completion of the investigation.
- Current Bill Status: 2nd Reading on Senate Calendar, Lourie amendment proposed and carried over.
- Fiscal Impact: $463,740 expenditure impact in recurring GF, and $321,290 expenditure in nonrecurring GF.

Senator Lourie proposed an amendment on the floor, which has been carried over :

- Strikes the provisions establishing SLED as the exclusive investigating agency.
- Provides that a law enforcement agency "may choose" SLED, FBI, or any other law enforcement agency to investigate officer-involved shootings and arrestee custody related deaths.
- Prohibits the law enforcement agency from choosing itself for an internal investigation in these situations.
