Katherine,

Finally got the status on this case. I apologize for the delay—the IRF and the attorney (Jim Nance) had been playing phone tag, but I called and was lucky enough to catch Jim in the office.

- ☐ The case is still in the discovery phase.
- ☐ It is a complicated case with multiple plaintiffs.
- ☐ Jim has finished taking the plaintiffs' depositions.
- ☐ Prior to actually taking the depositions, it was difficult to get the full details of what the case was going to look like.
- ☐ Now that Jim has a better feel for the case, he will be talking with the adjusters about what experts they will need to move the case forward.

I hope this provides the answers that you were looking for. If you need further details, please let me know.
