Subject: nyt interview request for Gov. Haley

Hi Chaney,

Hope you're well. I'm a political correspondent with the New York Times. I'm working on an article with my colleague Jonathan Martin, taking stock of the last few months for Jeb Bush as he prepares to announce for president on Monday. I know Gov. Haley will be remaining neutral in the Republican primary, but I did want to see if she had a few minutes to speak from an objective point of view about Gov. Bush's message and outreach to voters so far -- and if she thinks it's resonating at all with South Carolina voters.

Our deadline is 4pm Friday.

Thanks for the consideration,

Patrick
