I feel that education is our best defense against these senseless acts. As a foster parent/ adoptive parent I know that we need to do everything in our power to educate and help these people so that these children have a chance to live long beautiful lives.

I strongly believe this needs to be shared knowledge with mothers. It could save lives of innocent children and help parents know they have a choice.

every child deserves a chance to live. It's not their fault they we're unwanted and brought into the world.

If the mother doesn't want the baby they will do other things to get rid of it and they deserve more chances to live.
