

Children at the Gonzales Gardens playground collect scrap rubber for the defense effort. Photographed above is the beginning of the collection at the housing project. One of the little girls in the playground is handing William R. Geddings, supervising manager now on leave in the United States army, her old rubber doll. Standing in the back of the group, left to right, are Mrs. Ruth Munn, playground supervisor at Gonzales Gardens; Bill Harth, director of the city playgrounds, and Mrs. Alice Phillips, assistant to Mrs. Munn.

The Star 7/3/42