Congratulations to the other recipient of our Director's Award -- SC State Parks Marketing Manager, Gwen Davenport.

Director Paul says, "Gwen does not know what I can't is and through the years she has had a hand in solving more problems than many people will ever know. I can say with assurance that the park service of 2020 would not have been as successful as it was, reached as many people, or generated as much revenue without the hours of creative energy, attention to detail and quick response that Gwen Davenport has brought to her job. Our digital footprint served as our only footprint for some of 2020, and Gwen worked with her resources to show how SC leads the way. From creative signage about social distancing we never thought we would need, to the pass the keys video which sprung from Gwen's social media experience. We have had an opportunity to grow interest in parks this year and far exceed anything we could have imagined, because of her efforts. She has worked with our parks on getting videos for our channels and continues to find ways in this new virtual world to keep us front and center." Congratulations, Gwen!
