Quote from Governor Nikki Haley, "As I said when North Carolina passed its law, I don't think we need that type of law here. But we also don't need President Obama imposing a one-size-fits-all policy from Washington. We have always been proud of the fact that we handle issues such as this one in our school districts, and I trust South Carolinians to decide this issue, community by community, at the school district level."

Hello!
I understand the Governor may have issued a statement in regards to the transgender bathroom policy directive from the Obama administration.
If so – could you forward that statement?
Thanks!
