So, apparently the information we reported originated with WYFF tweets. (See attached)

We still should have not reported w/o confirming that the Governor would be there and intended to make remarks but that's where it came from.

For our planning purposes only, is the Governor planning to speak at the 9pm news conference? Or any time tonight about the shooting?

Again, asking for our planning purposes only ... if she is going to speak, we need to keep people late so they will be prepared to stream live on the web and provide news coverage.
