WORLD OCEANS DAY activities at Hunting Island -- JUNE 8th!

For the first time ever, Hunting Island State Park is celebrating

World Oceans Day

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 2012
Mark your calendars for this super fun night out for the WHOLE FAMILY, even for your dogs!

All festivities will be held on Hunting Island State Park at South Beach.
Regular park admission will be charged.

Dogs Night Out 5:00pm-6:30pm

Dogs, bring your owners with you to the beach to meet other dogs and enjoy:

- ~Rebecca W. Bass with Chloe demonstrate obedience training.
- ~Why leash laws are important,
- ~How dog waste effects the environment and
- ~Much, much more!!

Sunset Yoga: Get Your Downdog On! 6:45pm-8:00pm

Enjoy an all-levels yoga class on the beach as you absorb the sounds of the ocean. All participants should bring a large towel! The sponsoring studio is Yoga Chandra Center for the Healing Arts.

Don't have a dog or know how to do yoga? Come out and enjoy a beautiful LowCountry evening on the beach.

Christine Wishman Boyle Wow, yoga on the beach? That would be more relaxing. I do it on my hard floor but Rodney Yee is there so I don't notice I am not on the beach. He is. What a job he has, eh?
